Taking Your House to Market

Have you had a fair offer for your home lately? Probably not—if you have let it sit comfortably on its foundations waiting for a buyer. It is our business to reverse the process—to take your house to the buyer.

You may have already seen Previews' unique service advertised in such magazines as Fortune, Spur, Town & Country, Vanity Fair, House & Garden, House Beautiful, Country Life.

Buyers come to our centrally-located New York office each day in increasing numbers. It costs them nothing to inspect hundreds of suburban and country homes in still and motion pictures. It costs them nothing and saves them infinite time and trouble to select from pictures of the choicest available places in Newport, Southampton, the Adirondacks, etc.

Now inquiries at our New York office (342 Madison avenue) reflect a growing interest in Florida properties, on the part of New Yorkers as well as New York visitors of means from every part of the country.

Accordingly

To accommodate these potential purchasers Previews extends its service Southward and takes pleasure in announcing the appointment of WAGG INCORPORATED, nationally-known realtors with headquarters in Palm Beach, as its Florida representatives.

Working directly under Hon. Alfred H. Wagg, Mr. Ralph Blank will have charge of explaining Previews service to Florida residents.

Your house undoubtedly meets the requirements of someone who will be attracted to Previews' New York office or to the office of one or another of the hundreds of prominent brokers in all parts of America with whom each Florida property offered by Previews will be promptly listed.

We have experienced such success in promoting the sale of properties listed with us in the New York area that we can now afford to display your Florida home at very little cost to you.

Therefore For 1935

We offer our merchandising services in a variety of forms to suit every need. At your request, and without obligation, Previews' representatives in Palm Beach will analyze your problems and show you how best to bring your property to the attention of the greatest possible number of potential buyers throughout the country. Retaining Previews is not a luxury; the cost can be as little as $25 until the sale is made.

Previews Incorporated, the National Real Estate Clearing House, is the only real estate organization offering its services equally to sellers, buyers and brokers. We are concerned solely with placing each of our listings on the market in the most effective way. Previews does not compete with brokers and solicits their co-operation. Brokers receive full commissions on sales of all properties listed with Previews.

Palm Beach and Miami Beach owners are particularly invited to visit WAGG INCORPORATED, 207 Royal Palm Way, or to write or telephone (Palm Beach 2-0919) for full details of Previews services.

POLO

THE POLO season at Phipps Fields Fields, Gulfstream, is in full swing, with the first of the winter series of matches having been played last Sunday afternoon. Matches this season will be played on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturday and Sunday afternoons, starting at 3:30 o'clock, with teams including some of the world's outstanding mallet wielders.

Evenly matched teams with handicaps sufficient to enter fall tournaments at Meadowbrook, furnish whirlwind action, and display superb horsemanship, in these interesting tourneys.

Ability to ride well is one of the essentials of all good polo players, and the wiry little steeds are so well trained that horse and man appear to be one. At the slightest command of the player, which is done mostly by knee pressure, the pony will veer off from a shot to let the rider behind him take it, or stop short, wheel and race off in the opposite direction when the ball is suddenly knocked that way.

When the gong rings for the end of the chukker, new mounts are all ready to replace those that have done their share to make the tally for the White or the Blues.

Polo enthusiasts from Palm Beach and neighboring resorts make up the large gallery attending these events, motoring the short distance and watching the matches from their cars parked along the sidelines.

The Phipps fields, consisting of two large playing fields, several smaller playing fields, miles of wonderful bridle paths, lined with all types of beautiful tropical foliage, spick and span stables, provide a setting of tropical beauty unmatched by any fields on the continent.

The entire layout is under new management this season. Mr. Joe Dowling, manager of the famous Meadow Brook Club of Long Island, is in charge of the polo activities, which have been taken over by the recently formed Gulfstream Polo club.

This organization will conduct all the polo activities at Gulfstream, and has established a club house in one of the ocean front residences fronting the fields.

Such internationally known polo stars as Winston Guest, and Michael Phipps, members of the East team which trounced the West this summer, are seen in play at Gulfstream each season. Whether they will take part in matches this season, is not known as yet, for they are in India at present as members of the crack team of the Maharajah of Rahjpur.

Raymond Guest, brother of Winston Guest, member of the Meadowbrook club, which won the open this summer, is in the resort and will no doubt be seen in play. Mr. John S. Phipps, creator of the fields at Gulfstream, member of the Phipps family team, is also seen frequently playing in the matches, along with Hubert Phipps and H. C. Phipps.

Others expected to play are Stephen "Laddie," Sanford, Jock Whitney, George Atwell, Raymond and Leonard Firestone, Howell Howard, George Oliver, Robert Bullock and C. B. Wrightsman, the latter three from Texas, Harvey Wallace Shaffer and C. R. Harrison, Long Island.

Godfrey Preece, well known authority on polo ponies, has arrived at Gulfstream with a large string of ponies. His son, Terrence Preece, is also here from Texas and both will be seen in frequent matches. James Cooley has also arrived for the season.

More than 150 ponies, are now at the club stables.

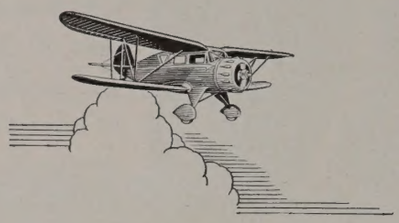
BELVEDERE AIRPORT
OF THE PALM BEACHES



IT IS WITH genuine pleasure that we announce to the residents and visitors of the Palm Beaches that we are again taking over the operation of the Belvedere Airport located approximately one mile west of West Palm Beach.

We look forward to the reopening of the airport for the Winter season because of the marvelous spirit of cooperation manifested to us last year and we are determined on this occasion to merit the approval of the residents which was so wholeheartedly extended to us in our former management of the airport.

We are happy to announce that once again the operation of Belvedere Airport will be in the competent hands of Mr. Edward S. Maloney, a flier of international repute.

In conjunction with the adequate and up-to-date equipment of which we are so justly proud, we are certain that we can conduct our operations with the same conscientious and proven thoroughness which characterized them in former years. We have facilities for charter work with competent Transport pilots licensed by the Department of Commerce for trips by air to any points in the United States. In addition, we have training ships available for students and the competency of our instructors is second to none.

We extend at this time a most hearty invitation to all to visit our airport and to become acquainted with our personnel and equipment.

MR. AND MRS. SIDNEY HOMER

The world-famous composer and the former Metropolitan Opera contralto now make Palm Beach their winter home. This intimate and charming photograph was taken in the garden of their cottage on the South Lake Trail.

Cottage Colony Society Life

THE PALM BEACH season got underway earlier than ever before and many of the large villas as well as the smaller cottages were opened long before the holidays. A number of new homes, most of them reflecting the British Colonial influence, have been constructed during the summer and form a pleasing contrast to the more colorful Spanish houses which have heretofore distinguished the resort.

Dr. and Mrs. John A. Vietor, of New York, built one of the largest of the new structures and are now in residence there with their son, Mr. John A. Vietor, Jr. and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Townsend (Miss Eleanore T. Vietor) of Locust Valley. The Vietor home is a beautiful Southern Colonial house, situated in Via del Lago. This marks the first year in which Dr. and Mrs. Vietor have occupied a house here, as they passed former seasons either at the Breakers or Whitehall. They are prominently identified with Palm Beach society, and are members of the Gulf Stream, Everglades, Oasis, and the Bath and Tennis Clubs.

Col. Louis Jacques Balsan and Mme. Balsan of Paris arrived early at their magnificent estate to which the finishing touches are just being added. Their home is an Italian farmhouse with elaborate water-gardens and occupies the southern end of Hypoluxo Island. Although they visited the resort last season, this is the first year that Mme. Balsan, the former Consuelo Vanderbilt and one-time Duchess of Marlborough, and her husband, leaders of international society, have ever been identified with Palm Beach.

MR. AND MRS. GROVER C. LOENING members of the Aviation Country Club of New York, who arrived yesterday at their new home on the North Lake Trail, where they have a sea plane landing on the lake front.

* * * *

Across from the Balsan farmhouse, is the imposing ocean front estate of Mme. Balsan's brother, Mr. Harold Stirling Vanderbilt and Mrs. Vanderbilt, the former Gertrude L. P. Conaway. Here one of the largest of the holiday house parties enjoyed the luncheon and dinner parties and the frequent pool parties that marked their visit. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Cutler, Mr. and Mrs. Frances McNair Bacon, III, of Boston, Mr. Wadsworth R. Lewis, Mr. Alfred O. Hoyt and Mr. James Burden, of New York. Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt are passing a fortnight in New York and will return this week-end to their home.

* * * *

Mrs. Guest and her son will pass the season in Palm Beach but Capt. Guest will depart soon for London to attend the opening of Parliament early in February. Enjoying a holiday house party at Villa Artemis were Mrs. Guest's brother-in-law, Mr. Bradley Martin, and members of his family, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bradley Martin, Mr. H. Townsend Bradley Martin, Mr. Esmond B. Martin and Mr. Alastair B. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Huntington, of Mill Neck, L. I., are occupying Tre Fontane, in Singer Place, this season and are entertaining frequently at smart dinner parties. Their house guests there have included Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Douglas, who are at present cruising around South America and the Horn with Mr. and Mrs. William K. Wilsons, are their house guests. Captain Mackintosh has often visited here, first coming to the resort as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua S. Cosden at the imposing ocean front estate which they built and later sold to Mrs. Hugh Dillman. Mrs. Mackintosh is a sister of Princess Anna Ilyinsky, who, with her husband, Grand Duke Dmitri, passed last season at Kawita, in Breakers Row.

* * * *

Mrs. Margaret Emerson entertained one of the smartest of the early season house parties at her lake front estate on Banyan Road where a swimming pool, with salt water piped from the ocean, has recently been completed. Mrs. Emerson's guests enjoyed a series of swimming parties, luncheons and dinners, and with their hostess, attended the dinner dance at which she entertained for her daughter, Miss Gloria Baker. A fishing trip to the Keys on board Mr. J. Lester Parsons' yacht, was also a feature of the house party. Among those visiting Mrs. Emerson were Mr. and Mrs. Aksel C. P. Wickfield (the former Fifi Widener), Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon

Douglas, Captain Richard Cooper, Mr. Walter Van Pelt, and Mrs. Emerson's son, Mr. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt. Palm Beach Club Activities

EACH SEASON finds the club assuming more and more importance in the social life of the Palm Beach resort colony. Swimming at the Bath and Tennis, golf at the Everglades, or, after a delightful drive, at the Seminole or Gulfstream, tea dances in the Orange Gardens of the Everglades, or dinner and dancing there—diversions from sun-up to sun-up attract an ever increasing crowd of resorters to these varied centers of activity.

As in former seasons, the exclusive Everglades Club was among the earliest to begin its social activities. Opening its eighteenth season on Christmas Eve with a brilliant dinner dance, the club has planned a full program of social affairs to continue throughout the season. A duplicate contract bridge tournament and a backgammon tournament have been arranged with weekly prizes as well as sweepstakes for both competitions. The Friday Night Assembly, whose membership includes many of the young married set in the resort, will usher in its second season at a dinner dance on January 18. Gala nights—every Thursday and Sunday—are always well attended as are the tea dances in the exotic Orange Gardens. A Cocktail Lounge with a bar of bright colored tiles, is among the attractive new features of the club, and is especially popular at the cocktail hour when members drop in after a round of golf or to enjoy a game of contract or backgammon at the tables overlooking the lake. Mayor John Shepard Jr. is president of the Everglades Club. Mr. D. Dulany Hunter is social secretary. The board of governors is composed of Mayor John Shepard, Jr., Maj. Elisha Dyer Hubbard, Dr. Edmund LeRoy Dow, Dr. A. Hamilton Rice, Lieut.-Col. John Bayne Maclean, Dr. Leland Eggleston Cofer, Capt. John H. Gibbons, Col. Robert Glendinning, and the Messrs. James Bentley, Lewis L. Clarke, Thomas R. Cowell, Hugh Dillman, George Angue Dobyne, Raymond Guest, Peter A. B. Widener, II, A. Atwater Kent, Alfred G. Kay, Charles A. Munn, Loring Q. White, Frank A. Shaughnessy and Charlton Yarnall. Mr. Hugh Dillman is chairman of the executive committee and Mr. George Angue Dobyne of the house committee. Dr. Edmund LeRoy Dow heads the golf and Mr. Alfred G. Kay, the tennis committees. Mr. Winthrop Williams is chairman of the Assemblies. The opening dinner dance was given in the Orange Gardens and held a foremost place among the holiday events. It included many jolly parties, the largest of which was that given by Mr. and Mrs. George Agnue Dobyne. Others having guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Appleton, Dr. and Mrs. Leland Eggleston Cofer, Mr. Hugh Dillman, Mrs. William H. Buckley, Mr. and Mrs. D. Dulany Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Howes, Mr. and Mrs. William Theodore Hoops, Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Seth Wheeler, Dr. and Mrs. John A. Vietor, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herendeen, Mrs. Charles H. Randle, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll D. Keeler, Mr. and Mrs. Ottavio Prochet, Mr. Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richard Cowell and Mr. and Mrs. John M. L. Rutherfurd. Mrs. George Albert Eddy entertained a large party of the young people at the opening tea dance at the club. The affair was given in the Orange Gardens and was in honor of her daughter, Miss Lorraine Eddy, who was on vacation from Bradford Junior College, near Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Moody Jr. entertained a group of the visiting college and school set at the New Year's dinner dance for their daughter, Miss Emmeline Moody, a student at Dana Hall, Wellesley, Mass., and their son, Mr. Malvern Moody, who attends Belmont Hall at Belmont, Mass. Mrs. John T. H. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Appleton have taken an apartment, as have Mr. and Mrs. Clinton S. Dow, and their daughter, Miss Eleanor Dow, of Orange, N. J.

The Seminole Golf Club celebrated its formal opening with a buffet luncheon and Tombstone Tournament on Sunday, December 30. These Sunday luncheons are favored by members and their house guests, many going early for a round of the beautiful golf links. Mr. and Mrs. John Barry Ryan, Jr. were winners of the first tournament. Members who entertained guests at the opening luncheon included Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer, Mr. William J. Among The Palms

THE hotel colony at Palm Beach is one of the most favored groups of individuals in the world. Theirs are all the delights and advantages of the famous American Riviera, with none of the complexities. For them the surf rolls onto broad beaches that they may disport in its mild waters, perfect service is theirs, and surroundings that range from homelike comfort to Lucullan luxury; meals that the best chefs in the country have prepared; opportunities for golf and tennis equal to the most exclusive club courses and courts; and in addition to all these, the diversions and interests of concerts, theatres, night clubs, restaurants and shops that are enjoyed by the entire resort colony. No wonder that the hotel colony in Palm Beach is large and that it ranks in social importance with the best of the foreign watering-places.

The Breakers opened this season at the earliest date in its history, receiving guests on the first day of December. The hotel is again under the management of Mr. John Winchell Greene, with Mr. Sheridan W. Scott, and Mr. Carter Gardner, assistant managers. Mr. William Petersen is chief clerk.

Although the early opening under the modified service plan was originally intended for the accommodation of season guests who wished to avoid the cold of December in the north, many others arrived to enjoy the early season here. By the time of the formal opening on Christmas Eve more than a hundred guests were enjoying the Breakers' far-famed hospitality. For the first time in its history, the formal opening was celebrated with a dinner dance at which many of the guests had tables of friends, and which proved a pleasing innovation. The huge Christmas tree set in the Italian well head in the lobby, the smaller decorated tree in the north lounge, from which Santa himself distributed presents to the guests on Christman morning, were appreciated parts of the entertainment program of the hotel so that no guest should feel lonely during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stahl were first to register, according to their yearly custom. Many other season guests have arrived to make their annual visit to the resort and to renew their friendship with fellow guests and with members of the cottage colony.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Groves of Centreville, Mass., who have been absent from the colony, are again at The Breakers for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Gale of Boston have returned for another season and have entertained at the hotel at a number of important dinners and luncheon parties. Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Hinde of Toledo, Ohio, are again enjoying the season at the hotel. Mrs.Hinde has developed a fondness for fishing and has been very successful on her various trips to the Gulf Stream. Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Candler have arrived from Detroit for the season, accompanied by their small and charming granddaughter, Miss Patricia Candler.

Among other season guests already at The Breakers are Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth C. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pieper, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kane and Mr. C. H. Scott; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Garmany; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart G. Rosson, Mr. and Mrs. William Seyfert, Mrs. McKay LeRoy, Mr. George R. Skinner, Mr. William H. Wadsworth, Mr. Fred H. Ward and many others.

The Brazilian Court Hotel opened on November 16th, again under lessee-management of Mr. Elliott F. Bishop. This hotel has one of the loveliest patios on the resort and this year it has been made even more beautiful. It is used as an out-door dining-room and gay groups gather every day under the bright umbrellas scattered about beneath the palm trees.

Among guests at the Brazilian Court are Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Adams Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Eliott Cutter, Mr. and Mrs. H. Philip Ammidown, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest B. Lindley Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Coe Scott Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dupuy, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Huntting, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. The Hotel Seaglade on Ocean Boulevard and Worth Avenue was among the first of the resort hostelries to open this season under the capable management of Mr. William G. Havill, for thirty-six years one of Palm Beach's foremost hotel executives. A number of improvements have been effected since last year, among them the installation of an elevator for the convenience of guests. Among guests now at the hotel are: Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Wagg and family, Mrs. Alfred D. Bell and her daughters, Nancy and Betty, Mr. Benjamin Butler, Mr. Frank Hutchins, Mrs. C. L. Wayland, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Miller, Miss Florence Farmer and Miss Grace Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Miller and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McMillan.

The Vineta Hotel, which was purchased last spring by Mr. A. Atwater Kent, well-known member of the Palm Beach winter colony, opened on January 1 under the management of Mr. Chester A. Westcott of the Malvern at Bar Harbor, Maine. Among the first guests at the hotel were Mr. and Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William McKee, Miss Jane Ashworth, Mr. A. Atwater Kent, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Gault.

The New Palm Beach Hotel, which is open the year round, is now under the management of Mr. Morel L. Peterson and is a popular hostelry. Attractively built in Spanish style, its spacious lounges and galleries are inviting places, and many card parties and other social affairs are held in the hotel. Its patio is filled with rare tropical plantings which are of great interest to guests. L'Aiglon, the night club and open-air garden at the western end of the New Palm Beach Hotel, is now open and affords a delightful opportunity to dine and dance in the out-of-doors.

Whitehall, palatial lakefront hotel, of which Mr. Martin Sweeny is managing director, and Mr. Edward Sweeny, resident manager, opened on New Year's Day with a gay party in the new cocktail lounge, which is rapidly becoming a favorite rendezvous with the hotel guests and their friends. Among season guests already in residence are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Beatty, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Austin S. Healy, Dr. Seth Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Horton, Mrs. Charles A. Snyder, and others are arriving each day.

Current Events Series---1935

ENTERING upon the tenth year of its activities, the Palm Beach Current Events series promises a great variety of speakers and subjects. Ever since the series was organized by Mrs. John Robert Bryden a decade ago, it has been a leading factor in the cultural life of the resort and has included in its membership the most prominent leaders of resort society. It has been a link connecting winter sojourners in this peaceful and unharassed land with the political and economic activities of the world, keeping them in touch with great national trends and movements. The Current Events series is a membership organization and its meetings are limited to members and their guests. Mrs. Bryden has been director of the series ever since its beginning.

According to a custom of ten years' standing, the meetings are held on Wednesday afternoons through February and into March. The first speaker in the 1935 series is Mr. Edward Tomlinson, who will address the group on Wednesday afternoon, February 6, at four o'clock, in the assembly room of the Palm Beach Art Association in East Main Street on "What South America Means to Us." Mr. Tomlinson has spent a part of every year since 1923 in the various republics of the south. He knows personalities and peoples, presidents, dictators, important army officers, explorers and business men. He knows and can tell dramatically of the great game of international politics now being played.

On Wednesday afternoon, February 13, Mr. Lawrence Dennis will speak at the Everglades Club, in the Singer music room. It is expected that he will engage in debate with Mr. James Warburg, but definite announcement can not be made until later. Mr. Dennis was born in America and received his early education in Europe. He served in the World War as Lieutenant of infantry in France. He has seen wide diplomatic service also. During the past four years he has lectured and has written several books, among them "The Coming Fascism" recently published by Harper's. His book "Is Capitalism Doomed" is considered a most important contribution to economic thinking.

The Hon. William R. Castle Jr. will speak on "Foreign Policies of the New Deal" at El Mirasol, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury on Wednesday afternoon, February 20. Mr. Castle has devoted himself to the problems both domestic and foreign, affecting our country. He was successively Assistant Chief and Chief of Division of Western European Affairs of the Department of State, Assistant Secretary in 1926 and for six months in 1930 was Ambassador to Japan.

"European Dictatorships" is the interesting subject on which Lt. Col. Stewart Roddie, C. V. S. will address the Current Events group of Wednesday, February 27, at La Fontana, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Luke Mesker. From the end of the World War until 1926 Col. Roddie was almost continuously in Germany on special missions. During the past summer he has traveled extensively in that country and in Russia, Austria, Italy and Turkey, and his knowledge of European dictatorships is first-hand and up-to-date. A magic power of expression and an extraordinarily penetrating mind make Col. Roddie's lectures unforgettable. After a recent address before the Dutch Treat Club in Town Hall, New York, the chairman of the meeting said that Col. Roddie's talk was one of the most brilliant and eloquent ever delivered to that group and that he kept the most critical audience in the country interested thirty-five minutes overtime.

The final address in the 1935 series will be given on Wednesday, March 6, in the Singer music room at the Everglades Club by Mr. Carl Pullen Dennet, the subject to be announced later. Mr. Dennett is an author of note and chairman of the National Economy League. His best known book is "Prisoners of the Great War."

Mr. Dennet was born in Maine and attended the University of Maine Law School, afterwards going into banking and brokerage. He is one of the distinguished speakers for the National Economy League.

Lake Worth

which separates Palm Beach from the mainland, affords safe harbor for yachts of the winter visitors. It is a part of the Florida East Coast inland Waterways System and connects by canal with Miami and with the north.

Tastes And Toilettes

ONCE again, the season opens in Palm Beach and and familiar faces and figures are seen again at the great hotels, on the golf courses and tennis courts, dancing in the smart clubs and gay restaurants, and congregated at bridge and backgammon tables in the patios of many of the homes. We see and welcome the same faces year after year, but praise be to the couturiers, dressmakers and tailors, and to the smart shops that distribute their new creations, each year we see new clothes —clothes that this year are lovelier than ever. We say lovely advisedly, for this year clothes have an even more feminine look than last year. Once more we see overskirts, and berthas, and leg o'mutton sleeves reminiscent of the Nineties. But the materials are more entrancing than ever. What year before 1935 has seen a bar dress of silver tissue, made in shirtwaist style? Such seeming contradictions give zest to the fashions of the year.

* * * *

Mrs. John M. L. Rutherfurd, sitting on a high stool at the bar at El Studio, wore a demure little dinner dress of white satin-striped mousseline, with a wide collar that had points front and back, and very full puffed sleeves to the elbow — very "Gay-Ninetyish" and very becoming to her petite figure.

* * * *

Mrs. James A. Moffett, dining at El Studio, wore a dinner gown of black crepe solidly encrusted with black bugle beads, made with long sleeves tight at the wrist and a moderately low front neckline. Her jewels were long strings of pearls and pearl and diamond bracelets.

* * * *

Mrs. George Edward Kent, Jr., in the patio of the Bath and Tennis Club wore attractive tailored slacks and blouse in pale blue linen with turn back collar.

A notched collar of soft, tailored lapin distinguishes this white diagonal tweed coat for resort wear. The brimmed felt hat with a gay feather in the crown may be had in white, royal blue, turquoise or pink. From Peck and Peck.

Mrs. Harrison Williams, whose gowns are so well chosen as to have won for her the enviable title of the "world's best dressed woman", wore one of the new bar dresses at El Studio recently. The very full black velvet skirt was topped by a petal pink jacket of cellophane cloth cut away in front and giving the effect of a short peplum in black. The jacket was collarless with attention centering on the dusty pink artificial gardenias that formed the neckline.

* * * *

Mrs. Harry F. Guggenheim, who is passing the month at the Breakers, wore at a dinner recently a stunning black and green evening gown whose formal lines were concealed when worn with the little hip-length jacket. The jacket and the full skirt were of black triple-sheer and the bodice top of the same material in shamrock green with a large flat green bow on the left shoulder and streamers falling in graceful folds to the floor. Mrs. Guggenheim wore a tight fitting little black brimless hat designed to harmonize with the style of the dress.

* * * *

Mrs. Forrest Berry Lindley, the former Constance Merryweather of Cleveland, O., appeared at the Sea Spray Beach Club wearing a very attractive swim suit of aquatone silk jersey in backless style with halter neck, worn with a waist-length jacket of the same fabric buttoned high at the neck and featuring short cuffed sleeves.

* * * *

Mrs. John Robert Bryden looked very charming at the Bath and Tennis Club the other day wearing a broad brimmed hat of white felt and a white wool coat with interesting sleeves, worn over a frock of novelty weave crepe. White accessories completed the details of her costume.

* * * *

At the Bath and Tennis Club recently, Mrs. Joseph Kirk Love wore very effectively, a commander blue jacket and slacks of rough ribbed wool with a blouse of bright figures on a white ground. Her smart white beret with blue accent was very becoming.

* * * *

Mrs. F. S. Wynn of the Breakers was noted at her cabana the other morning wearing a very becoming two-piece suit of purl knit, the jacket in tomato red with deep revers, worn with white silk ascot and a white skirt. Her smart felt hat was of a matching shade of red.

* * * *

Mrs. Ellsworth C. Warner, visited the Breakers Beach recently wearing an attractive tailored frock of white crepe, the skirt with pleats at the seams, worn with a hip length jacket of deep brown. Her becoming narrow brimmed hat was of white toyo with a band of brown.

* * * *

Miss Virginia Downs, who is passing the winter with her uncle, Mr. George F. Downs, at his new home in Golf View Road, wore at the Everglades Club gala opening a moonlight gown of white triple-sheer, made in Russian tunic effect with a band of rhinestone trimming around the neckline and bordering the tunic. Her wrap was a tangerine moire jacket in Directoire style.

* * * *

Mrs. Phil Sawyer wore at the Everglades Club a gown of sapphire-blue velvet, designed especially to wear with her famous sapphires.

You can be as alluringly feminine or as attractively boyish as you please on the beach this season. Here is the new South Sea Island beach costume first presented in America by Franklin Simon and Co. The trunks are modeled after the native pareu. The wrapped skirt is inspired by the graceful sarong. The whole costume is carried out in brilliant primitively figured cotton, and is a leading fashion at all the smart southern resorts.

At the left is an amusing knock-about costume of loosely woven natural crash linen. The trousers are a new length, and the crocheted scarf adds a note of color to the costume. Play oxfords of unlined suede with white soles and fringes.

PALM BEACH MONDAY MUSICALS

IN PALM BEACH, favored winter resort of Society, the cultural side of life has always been of great moment. Musicians, artists and speakers of world-wide reputation have come to the resort to contribute to the enjoyment of the winter visitors here, whose discriminating taste has always demanded the best. For many years the Society of Arts of Palm Beach brought to the resort many of the finest musicians in the world and its series of concerts became a standard of excellence in the musical world.

After the Society of Arts ceased to exist because of the inevitable changes that time brings, the demand for fine concerts continued and in response to that demand a new series, the Palm Beach Monday Musicals, has recently been organized by Miss Georgena Girvin, concert director of the former Society. The idea behind the new series springs from the ideals and carries on the aims of the late Mr. Joseph Riter, who sought to present to music lovers in the resort the finest musical artists under conditions in no way inferior to Metropolitan presentations.

Leaders in social and cultural circles in the resort are sponsoring the Monday Musicals, the group including many officers and members of the former Society of Arts who recognize in the new series a continuation of the ideals of the old. The sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. John R. Bryden, Mrs. Earle Perry Charlton, Miss Nellie A. Cluett, Dr. and Mrs. Leland Eggleston Cofer, Mr. Hugh Dillman, Captain and Mrs. John H. Gibbons, Mr. and Mrs. G. Horton Glover,

Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Harris, Mrs. H. Ashton Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Kay, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. F. McCann, Mr. and Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch, Mr. and Mrs. George Luke Mesker, Mrs. E. Gray Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Pillsbury, Mrs. Henry R. Rea, Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Shaughnessy, Mr. and Mrs. S. Fahs Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, Mrs. Henry Morgan Tilford, Colonel and Mrs. Clarence S. Wadsworth, Dr. and Mrs. George A. Waterman, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse.

The Paramount Theatre has been engaged for the concerts, its large seating capacity making possible a low subscription rate so that hundreds may enjoy the series. Three concerts will be held on successive Monday evenings in February. On February 4, the first of the Monday Musicals will introduce to a Palm Beach audience the famous dramatic soprano, Dusolina Giannini, who has been acclaimed one of the greatest voices since Patti. On February 11, a duo-piano program will be presented by Josef and Rosina Lhevinne, whose joint recitals are the sensation of the musical world. On February 18 the program will be divided between Doris Kenyon in lyric silhouettes and Efrem Zimbalist, violinist.

Dusolina Giannini, who opens the series, has recently returned from Europe where she is in constant demand in opera in Covent Garden, Salzburg, Berlin, Hamburg and other music centers. She has always appeared as a guest artist and her interpretations, coupled with her magnificent voice, have brought her fame in three continents. After her tour of the United States, Giannini will return to Europe to fill engagements including nine performances in Salzburg, among them an appearance in "Falstaff" with Arturo Toscanini conducting. Her concert apearances have been equally important. She has sung with practically all the major orchestras of the country in addition to solo recitals from Canada to Havana and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. During the past eighteen months she has made a total of 114 operatic and concert performances. In spite of her very Italian name, Giannini is American born and is rightly included among the great American singers.

Josef and Rosina Lhevinne, whose two pianos will fill the Paramount Theatre with great music at the second of the Monday Musicals, are that rarest phenomenon in modern life, a husband and wife, both gifted royally with the artistic temperament, yet able to live, play and work happily and successfully together. Josef has been heard here before in the Society of Arts. Rosina will make her Palm Beach debut in this concert.

Theirs was a boy and girl romance. Together they attended the Moscow Conservatory, studied together under the great master Safonoff and were graduated with honors in the same class. They were married soon after, and the young wife submerged her career in her husband's. But she continued her music and in the evenings they would play together for their friends. Cesar Cui was so delighted with their playing that he insisted they make public appearances together in two-piano recitals. These have been a great thrill to the musical public. Josef still continues his solo work, to which part of the program is devoted. The role of dual pianist has only added to the lustre of his fame.

When an artist can wander from the world of motion pictures to the world of music with equal distinction in both, it shows versatility to an amazing degree. That has been the achievement of Doris Kenyon, or Mrs. Milton Sills as she prefers to be known, who will appear in the third Monday Musical in a group of lyric silhouettes. These are vocal picturizations of types that circle the globe. She paints her silhouettes with a deftness and a finesse that makes the performance thoroughly enjoyable. Miss Kenyon possesses more than the usual allotment of beauty, youth, intelligence, a lovely soprano voice and dramatic insight. Her costumes are so appropriate as to be masterpieces of atmosphere and her talent combines beautiful music with brilliant character studies.

The name of Efrem Zimbalist, who will appear in the final concert, has become synonymous with great violin music. He stands at the pinnacle of the musical ladder in popularity and prestige. His art has been acclaimed on every continent. He has played in almost every large city in the world and he is no stranger to Palm Beach audiences for he has played several times at the Society of Arts concerts.

Zimbalist is an artist of singular and self-effacing devotion to lofty ideals. He has gained the deep respect and sincere affection of all who reverence art as he does. He plays with a stream of lucent, rich, enveloping tone. Bold and aggressive virility combine with a patrician elegance of style to make his playing a memorable experience to his hearers, and one that will bring the first series of Monday Musicals to a triumphant close.

EFREM ZIMBALIST, master of the violin

Sports In Review

WITH the Palm Beach tournament season, both in golf and tennis, already begun in the resort, all indications point to a most active series of competition in these events, by outstanding sportsmen from local and neighboring resorts. Golf, which has always maintained a premier position, both from the point of view of popularity and in number of excellent courses available to resorters, will be the focal point around which sports interest will revolve.

The Palm Beach Golf Club and the Palm Beach Country Club, under the direction of the Florida East Coast Hotel Company, are favorite spots for members of the hotel colony, and are the scene of nationally known tournament play during the winter season. Club courses include the Everglades Club, Gulfstream and Seminole Clubs, where members and their guests enjoy play and which also hold spirited tourneys.

First of the prominent tournament matches to get under way will be the annual Lake Worth event, January 21 to 25, to be held over the course of the Palm Beach Golf Club, with many well known tournament players from all sections of the country taking part. Following that will come the South Florida Championship event, February 4 to 8.

Tommy Goodwin, phenomenal young golfer Monroe, N. Y. won both of these events last year, defeating Manuel Orturo of West Palm Beach, 4 and 3 in the final 36 hole match, and vanquishing Orturo again in the South Florida event by the score of 7 and 6.

The two-ball invitational tournament which was very popular last season will be played at the Palm Beach Golf Club February 25 to March 1. This event was won last season by the British team of Brigadier General A. C. Critchley, French amateur champion and Captain George Stevens, both members of the Royal and Ancient course of St. Andrews, Scotland. They defeated the team of Albert R. Hakes, Buffalo, and Hugh L. Willoughby, Philadelphia, 1 up, in a hard fought match that was forced to the 37th hole.

Another tourney which attracts sharpshooting golfers, is the Men's Championship of Palm Beach, at the Palm Beach Country Club, to be played this year, March 4 to 8. Tommy Goodwin also won that last season, defeating Albert R. Hakes, prominent resort golfer, 2 up in a tight match. He also took the Men's Invitational tourney, played at the Everglades Club, defeating Jack Butler, Palm Beach tournament golfer, 6 and 5. Goodwin won four out of the five tournaments played in the resort, the two-ball foursome, being the only event in which he did not come out on top. Goodwin made a notable record of performances on Florida courses last season. He chalked up a remarkable string of victories, winning six tournaments in seven week throughout the state. He has announced his intention of entering tournament play this season, starting with the Lake Worth event.

noted novelist and winter resident about to tee off for his daily round of golf.

One of the outstanding tourneys held over the Country Club course each season is the annual Women's Championship of Florida, February 18 to 22, which attracts world-wide interest, and brings golfers of international reputation to participate.

The event was won last year by Miss Maureen Orcutt, of White Beeches, N. J., who defeated Miss Marion Miley, youthful Kentucky champion and medalist of the tournament, by the score of 5 and 4. This made her three times winner of the event and as a result she carried off permanently the much coveted Flagler gold chalice trophy, which has been battled over unsuccessfully, by nationally known feminine golfers since 1925, when Mrs. Glenna Collette Vare, gained three wins and permanent possession for the first time. The largest gallery in the history of the tournament, numbering more than 3,500 persons followed the match.

One of the high spots of the Palm Beach tournament season is the annual Artists and Writers Golf affair, which brings down famous figures of the world of the brush and pen, to play over the Country Club course. The date set this year is February 4 to 8, with the vanguard arriving at the Breakers, February 1.

Grantland Rice of the Artists and Writers Golf Club has been the winner five times in succession, but last year Fontaine Fox, famous for his Toonerville cartoons, walked away with the title after a hard fought battle, defeating Dick Hyland, the well known sports writer, 4 and 3.

The Everglades Club, under the direction of its golf chairman, Dr. Edmund Leroy Dow, has arranged a most interesting series of weekly golf events, for men and women members of the club, which will extend through March. Chief among these will be the annual Women's Club Champion match, February 25 to March 1, which was won last year by Mrs. Austin Pardue of Minneapolis, who defeated Mrs. Loring Q. White of Cohasset, Mass., 5 and 3. There will also be the annual Men's Champion club match March 4 to 8.

Other club matches are held at the Seminole Club, north of Palm Beach on the Federal Highway, an interesting affair being the Sunday Tombstone tournaments; and also at the Gulfstream Golf Club at Gulfstream, Fla., just south of Palm Beach.

Some top-notch tennis is also being furnished this season, by three resort clubs, the Everglades Club, Bath and Tennis Club and Palm Beach Tennis Club. Weekly round robin matches are played in the form of mixed doubles at the Bath and Tennis Club, Friday afternoons, and between amateurs and professionals at the Palm Beach Tennis Club on Sunday afternoons, both events being very popular and attracting a large gallery. It is also expected that the annual Southern Professional Tennis Championship tourney will be held again in the first week of March on the courts of the Palm Beach Tennis Club. Karel Kozeluh, six times European professional champion and former American champion, won the event last year, defeating Hans Nusslein, the German racket wizard, and the present world's professional champion, in five hard fought sets, 6-2, 6-8, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4.

The Everglades Club annual invitational tournaments are expected to be held again this season, being arranged by Mr. Alfred G. Kay, chairman of the tennis committee, and will probably be played the latter part of February. These tourneys were the focal point of tennis interest in the resort last season, with record galleries watching some outstanding tennis in Men's singles and doubles matches, Women's singles and doubles, and mixed doubles.

Sky-view of the Everglades Club eighteen hole golf course, where members will take part in much tournament activity this season.

Miss Barbara Phipps of Long Island and Charles R. Harris, of West Palm Beach, won the singles championships last season in hard fought matches. Miss Phipps defeated Madame Helen Francois of Paris, in the final round by the scores of 6-4, 6-8, and 6-3. Charles Harris defeated Robert S. Turner of the Longwood Cricket Club, Boston, Mass., in straight sets, 6-1, 6-0, 6-0.

The men's doubles were won by Charles Harris and his brother, Richard Harris, who defeated the team of Robert S. Turner and William R. Bragaw of East Orange, N. J., in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3, 6-1.. In the mixed doubles event, Miss Mary Kenny of New York teamed with Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., defeated Miss Edna Brokaw and George Churchill of New York, 6-3, 8-6, terminating one of the most successful club tourneys ever played in the resort.

Badminton, an offspring of tennis, originating with British army officers in India, who finally found a use for champagne corks, using the added touch of feathers, is growing popular in Palm Beach and is being played a great deal by members of the resort sets.

Polo enthusiasts will have the opportunity of again watching some exciting matches at Phipps Fields, Gulfstream, with these matches all ready started. Each season internationally-known players gather for practice and play, astride some of the best polo ponies in the world. Regular matches are held three times a week and attract large groups from Palm Beach, Miami and other adjacent resorts.

Sport fishing for the past few seasons has assumed a most important place on the roster of truly exciting sports, and the island resort has become the headquarters for that much coveted members of the swordfish family, the sailfish. Palm Beach can offer the best to be had in the way of well equipped sport fishing craft, piloted by some of the best fishing guides on the Florida coast. All sorts of tropical game fish can be found and there is scarcely a day goes by when the enthusiastic angler cannot get the thrill of a lifetime out of landing a "sail", marlin, dolphin or some equally gamey member of the finny tribe, as well as stocking the larder with delectable edible varieties.

To appease the more seasoned sports fan, there are available wrestling and boxing matches each week, in minature Madison Square Gardens constructed for the purpose by the American Legion in West Palm Beach and Lake Worth. The former puts on some top-notch fistic melees, showing some of the best lads in the country, while the latter, specializes in wrestling shows that bring down the house. Members of the resort colony attend these almost enmasse.

The Palm Beach Kennel Club, one of the most modern racing courses in the state devoted solely to greyhound racing, is located just outside the resort and will start its winter meet the evening of December 27. Some of the fastest specimens of dogdom take part nightly in these races, including many imported greyhounds that have made names for themselves on European tracks.

The annual regatta of the Palm Beach Yacht Club which played host to the international power boat races last year, is expected to be given again this season, with the first division featuring sailing races of the popular moth boats and the second division being devoted solely to outboard and fast power boat events.

Mr. John M. L. Rutherfurd, well-known Palm Beach sportsman and race boat driver, who has been a prominent contender in Palm Beach regattas, and others through the country, including recent gold cup contests, has announced his intention of skipping a full year of participation in that event in order to experiemnt on a brand new craft for the 1936 gold cup race.

The Palm Beach Country Club, which annually plays host to outstanding tournament golfers from all sections of the country.

Jean Dupuy, Parisian outboard pilot, who captained the French team at the international races here last winter, has raised the world's unofficial outboard speed record to 65.75 miles per hour, four miles per hour faster than the record.

Sun bathing and swimming assume their rightful place of importance in Palm Beach, the entire shows of which consists of the finest of beach for surf bathing and sun worshiping. The beaches and swimming clubs offer every facility for the enjoyment of this favorite sport, resort visitors surfeiting themselves with mild summer breezes only a day's ride from old King Winter.

NASSAU society turned out enmasse Friday afternoon and Saturday evening to attend the first annual Aquatic meet held in the newly re-conditioned pool at the British Colonial Hotel. The two-day meet was the most spectacular aquatic offering ever held in the history of these Isles of June.

Elaborate preparations are under way for the gala formal opening of the British Colonial Hotel on Saturday evening, Jan. 19, which occasion annually marks the official beginning of the winter social season.

Members of the cottage colony who are already here, and government officials under the direction of His Excellency, Capt. the Hon. Sir Bede Clifford, K. C. M. G., Governor of the Bahamas, are co-operating to make this event one of the gayest of the season and pay tribute to the genius of Colonel Henry L. Doherty of New York and Miami, who has acquired the British Colonial this year along with the Bahamas Country Club and the Paradise Beach Club.

Colonel Doherty visions Nassau as a coming British Riviera, offering all the recreational and social facilities of Continental resorts, and is spending thousands of dollars in modernizations and improvements to his properties.

An unusual entertainment program featuring Bob Sperling's orchestra and a corps of artists from New York has been arranged for the gala opening.

MIAMI BEACH

JANUARY, advancing with a colorful resort program in its wake, gives promise of one of the most brilliant seasons in Florida history. With the third annual Miami Biltmore Dog show and the Roney Plaza Fashion parade highlighting activities the next fornight, events are swinging into a high tempo of gaiety.

Owners of pedigreed canines already are grooming their pets for the showing which opens Thursday at the Miami Biltmore Country Club where many of the country's finest sport and show dogs will compete for trophies awarded by Colonel Henry L. Doherty as president of the Florida Year Round Clubs. Entries are assuming record proporitions and a large representation of Palm Beach thoroughbreds is anticipated by the committee.

One of the brilliant gatherings of the year gave distinction to the Aviation ball Saturday night which climaxed a round of events in connection with the Miami Air Meet. Clayton Sedgwick Cooper, president of the Committee of 100, was chairman of the affair which took place at the Miami Biltmore Country Club. Entertainment featured a society circus on three-ring scale with acrobats, clowns, magicians, and the traditional whip-cracking ring master giving additional color.

Holiday fastivities at the Florida Year Round Clubs assumed an interesting continental atmosphere occasioned by the presence of many European visitors who have joined the seasonal colony.

Among those noted at the gala dinner dance at the Miami Biltmore recently were Baron and Baroness Armand Thiery, of Paris, France, who are here with M. and Mme. Antoine Hulman, also from the French capital. TheBaroness, who has the chic for which her countrywomen are famous, wore for the occasion an imported gown of hydrangea blue chiffon in Directorie style, with violet moire ribbons and corsage of orchids.

Harry Salmon, the English financier, and Mrs. Salmon, who are on a six month tour around the world, stopped at the Roney Plaza hotel for the holidays and were enthusiastic members of the suntan colony.

Sir Selwyn Grier, colonial secretary of Trinidad, and Lady Grier, were guests at the Miami Biltmore on their first trip to South Florida. Another distinguished English visitor who made the Miami Biltmore headquarters during a vacation was Brigadier General A. C. Critchley, of London, member of Parliament and well known sportsman. While here the General was noted frequently on the Miami Biltmore golf course where he and Olin Dutra, national open champion, formed a twosome.

MRS. E. HAMILTON CAMPBELL
New York, who was among the socially prominent New Yorkers spending the holidays at the Miami Biltmore hotel.

December, which was marked by a kaleidoscopic program of events, gained considerable color from the presence of many of the nation's best known springboard and swimming stars here for the national swimpic Stars Aquatic Meet in the Miami Biltmore pools. Among those who took part in the event were Eleanor Holm Jarrett, peer of backstroke swimmers, Lenore Kight, world's foremost freestyle swimmer, Kathryn Rawls, Ft. Lauderdale, conceded one of the best allround feminine stars, Marshall Wayne, and Dick Degener, both famous for their diving.

South Florida society gathered January 5 for the annual junior fashion show when young sons and daughters of Florida Year Round Club members forecast resort modes for the very young set. The show, given during the tea hour, is always one of the social peaks of early January.

Sports have a prominent place in the January resort picture with the annual Miami Biltmore Tennis championships, which closed Saturday, the occasion for many social events, including a tennis tea on the hotel terrace. Several members of the Palm Beach colony motored here for the events, the gallery being the most colorful in the history of the tournament.

Two days after the close of the tennis tourney, winning pairs of contract players from 12 metropolitan cities began play in the Miami Biltmore National Bridge Championship which will continue through Thursday of this week. The team-of-four championship will be played today and competition is keen for the trophies to be awarded by Colonel Doherty.

A new feature of winter life at the Roney Plaza this season is the series of afternoon tea dances being held in the palm gardens, where smart society gathers. At the Roney Plaza Cabana Sun Club activities continue on the same colorful and continental note that has characterized this popular beach spot for many seasons.

Climaxing the social calendar for January, a birthday ball at the Miami Biltmore Country Club will be held January 30 in honor of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's anniversary. The event will be one of a series given throughout the nation. Colonel Doherty is national chairman of the committee sponsoring the party, the proceeds of which will be used in scientific research for the treatment of infantile paralysis.

In keeping with the greatly expanded program for the Florida Year Round Clubs this season, the Key Largo Anglers' Club has been the setting for many of the early season's most attractive events, among them being a series of bridge luncheons and "Fisherman's Luck" dinners. General W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, has been spending considerable time at the club with Mrs. Atterbury's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. George D. Rosengarten, of Philadelphia, who have a winter cottage there.

Dashiell Hammett, author of "The Thin Man" is planning to make the Key Largo Club winter headquarters and has had a cottage built there, where he will spend much of his time while writing. William McFee, sea story writer, has been a frequent visitor to the club.

Addition of the British Coloniel hotel and Paradise Beach at Nassau to Colonel Doherty's hotel and club properties this season has injected a continental atmosphere into South Florida resort life which already is making itself evident in many ways.

GOVERNOR AND MRS. LEHMAN OF NEW YORK

Among prominent guests of the Miami Biltmore have been Dr. James T. Tucker, Richmond, Va.; Baron Lunden and Baron Allard, diplomats of Brussels, Belgium; Timothy Ansberry, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Toomey, of Mount Vernon, N. Y.; Judge and Mrs. W. L. Hadden, of New Haven, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. John J. Dewey, of Nassau; Emil Hurja, member of the Democratic committee of Washington D. C. Visitors at the Roney Plaza have included Racquel Torres, the film star; Yvone Printempts.

The garden lighting of Cielito Lindo expresses plastically the beauty of the tall palms, magically iluminated from an invisible source.

Night Lighting Animates The Garden

THE CHARM of gardens in the moonlight has been sung by poets since Solomon, but with only thirteen full moons in the year, there are many nights when the garden is in eclipse. So Science has at last begun to do something about it. And now we can enjoy the beauty and color of our gardens fully as much by night as by day.

In the night lighting of the extensive grounds of Cielito Lindo, ocean-to-lake estate of Mrs. James P. Donahue, the firm of Rudolf Wendel, Inc., of Paris and New York, has created another of the masterpieces of artistic and decorative lighting which it is accomplishing in many of the most beautiful estates in this country and abroad. The scene has the fascination and mystery of a garden bathed in moonlight, and gives the impression of an artistic but not an artificial illumination. As one emerges from the house into the patio, one has the sensation of being in a garden magically lighted by a tropical moon as the light effects are all attained from invisible light sources. Not one light is visible but the scene is bathed in radiance and the tall palm trees stand out plastically, with lighted fronds modelled against deep shadow and demi-obscur.

In the patio, the hidden lights brings out the colors of the flowers as clearly as the light of day but more subtly. The whole vista of the patio is animated and the lighting accents the beautiful architectural details. The effect is far different from ordinary bright illumination, which though it dispels the darkness, can never achieve the sense of glamour that lies over the grounds of Cielito Lindo by night.

The lawn stretching from the foot of the terraces to the lakeshore has been the subject of especial treatment. Lighting coming directly from in front and, of course, giving no shadows whatever, would kill any artistic effect. Without shadows the foliage would become a flat surface, for only the play of light and shadow can animate a nocturnal garden. So there is no light cast from the front. The lighting is arranged to create the illusion of an imaginary light source at one side, casting soft reflections and shadows across the lawn and lighting the tall palms so that each has its special value in the decorative scheme. This is actually effected by small optical projectors which are hidden in the shrubbery, powerful lights that create a soft effect.

The beautiful crowns of the palm trees are accented and appear taller and more luxuriant than by day. One frond will have a clear-cut sculptural quality, another sink into a blurred background of deep green and still another retreat into shadow. But there are no abrupt, deep pits of blackness anywhere. A soft luminosity bathes the entire grounds, bringing out the colors of the gowns of the guests who visit the gardens and forming a distinguished background for evening fetes.

In our search for artistic night lighting we have come a long way from strings of Japanese paper lanterns and blue moons glaring from the shrubbery. The lighting expert has as definite a field in the outdoors as the decorator inside the house. From the expert whose technical knowledge is combined with artistic ability, impeccable taste and lofty imagination, we may expect marvellously beautiful effects of which one would never tire any more than he would tire of the moon. In the lighting of the grounds of Cielito Lindo such an effect has been attained.

BENEATH THE STARS

NEVER before in the history of Palm Beach has so rich and varied a bill of fare, both gastronomically and otherwise, been offered by the restaurants and night clubs. The first issue of Palm Beach Life finds five of the major establishments in full swing, with a sixth scheduled to open its portals on January 16th, and a seventh on January 23rd.

Discussing the various places of entertainment in the chronological order of their opening, we first trip down Sunrise Avenue to El Studio. Chronicled as "A Bit of Old Spain", it is truly that, lacking only the tamales and frijoles. Operating under the aegis of Mr. Dave Feldman, El Studio is a new venture this season, and a very successful one.

El Studio has been the scene of many pleasantly diverting social functions since its opening. Its bill of entertainment has appealed to all, particularly the younger set. One of the larger of the farewell parties, prior to return to school and college, was held here, those present including:

The Misses Gloria Baker, Fernanda Munn, Sonia Phipps, Marie Bassett, Annette Reynolds, Elsie and Joan Wyeth, Althea Tevander, Mary Rogers, Anita and Audrey Kay, Lorraine Eddy, Eleanor Young, Ruth Marian Quigley, Emmeline Moody, Kathleen Kennedy, Katherine Waite, Dana Maher, Charlotte Morrison and the Messrs. Gurnee Munn Jr., Quentin F. Feitner Jr., John and Peter Ordway, Townsend Sackett, Theodore Sawyer, Alexander Thomson, Theodore Noll, Frank Quigley, Robert Southworth, Malvern Moody, Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., Jack Kennedy, Jack Paterno, R. Stuyvesant Pierrepont Jr., Louis Albert Valier Jr., Frank Valier, John Foskett, David Legget, Hood Bassett, Wiley R. Reynolds Jr., Warren Kay, Richard Webb.

Second to make its bow was Patio Marguery, this year at a new location, 210 Sunset Avenue. However, the management remains in the same capable hands which for so many years directed the restaurant's successful career at the old location in Worth Avenue.

Patio Marguery's new quarters are ideally suited to the purpose to which they have been put. Since the informal opening further improvements have been made. The formal opening of this popular restaurant, which features Jackson Hines as its main entertainment piece de resistance, will occur on Saturday night, when the famous Ernie Vallee's Orchestra will make its debut.

Mrs. Henry R. Rea gave a luncheon recently at Patio Marguery for Mrs. Edward L. Shearson and Mrs. E. Hope G. Slater. Other distinguished guests on the same day included Mr. Harry F. Guggenheim, former Minister to Cuba, and Mrs. Guggenheim.

Fourth in line to open was Club Savoy, which brings to the Palm Beach area metropolitan night club atmosphere in its smartest and most entertaining phases. Managed by Mr. Lewis S. Shields of the Colonial Inn, Bretton Woods, N. H., it is situated on the Miami Highway, two miles south of the Bath and Tennis Club bridge.

A six-act show is a feature of the evening's entertainment with incidental and dance music by the Westchester-Biltmore Country Club Orchestra. The club opens nightly at eight o'clock for dinner, but is primarily a late spot, the great influx of colonists appearing after midnight as a rule.

Among colonists noted at Club Savoy recently were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Havemeyer, with a large party, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paterno, their two sons, Joseph Paterno Jr. and Jack Paterno; John and Peter Ordway, Mr. and Mrs. John M. L. Rutherfurd, Mr. Caleb S. Bragg, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Santer Levy, Mrs. John P. Stewart, Mr. Charles de Bretteville, Judge and Mrs. C. V. Donnell, Mr. T. Dennie Boardman 2d, Mr. John de Braganza, Mr. Fred Fletcher, Mrs. Lyttleton Fox, Mr. Charles L. Harding, Miss Dorothy Underhill, Mr. John P. Wemple, Mr. Paul Wait.

A brilliant function marked the opening of The Patio on New Year's Eve, with Mr. Sam Salvin again at the helm. The Patio has undergone extensive alterations in the past few months, little semblance of the old establishment remaining other than the outward aspect and the traditions which have made the rendezvous famous on two continents.

The newly-decorated interior is charming, particularly the bar in the lounge with its Ecarte prints. Champs Elysee, the cosmopolitan sidewalk cafe in the Parisian manner is also an innovation, a favorite place for luncheon and at the cocktail hour. Music and entertainment is by Mort Dennis and his Patio Society Orchestra, playing at The Patio for their second season.

Many brilliant dinners have been given at The Patio since opening day. Notable was the one given a few nights ago by Mrs. William Randolph Hearst for Mr. and Mrs. Nino Lo Savio, Captain and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson, Mrs. Dodge Sloane, Miss Dorothy Fell, Mr. Douglas Paige, Mr. William Rhinelander Stewart, Mr. Charles A. Munn, Mr. Noel Munn, Mr. David Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Loening, Mrs. Harvey Dow Gibson, Miss Whitney Bourne, Mr. Harvey Shaffer.

On the previous evening Mrs. Reredon Havemeyer had as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Williams, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Paley, Captain and Mrs. Alastair Mackintosh, the Countess Edith di Zoppola, Mrs. Allan A. Ryan Jr., Mr. Jacques Porel, Mr. David Wilson, Mr. William Rhinelander Stewart, Mr. Milton W. Holden, the Duke of Verdura, the Baron Nicholas de Gunzburg.

The opening of Jardin Bijou by Louis Cantone, at 300 Worth Avenue, is an event scheduled for Wednesday night of this week. Here also elaborate alterations have been made in the menage. Mario di Polo's Orchestra will furnish the music and entertainment. In New York Mr. Cantone conducts Le Bijou.

Last of the restaurants to open, but by far from least, is the famed Colony Club. On Wednesday of next week it will commence its seventh season under the able guidance of Mr. Arthur C. Hand. Ernie Holst and his orchestra will again be at the Colony Club this season. Mr. Arthur Brown will also be with the organization again. Cafe de la Paix at the Colony Club is one of the resort's most famous cocktail rendezvous.

The Colony Club will be the scene on January 30th of the President Roosevelt birthday ball.

Whether the evening proves cool or rainy, or has the typical enchantment of the Florida East Coast, fanned by soft winds and drenched with moonlight, makes little difference to the gay throngs which may assemble at the New Palm Beach Hotel to exchange their happiness. For the spacious dining room or the adjoining patio may be the choice most fitting for one's moode. Thus an engagement may not need to be broken if at the L'Aiglon.

Price Isn't Everything!

In the salons of the staid Faubourgs . . . in the merry dives of the citoyens of Paris . . . they drink Doyen Champagne because . . . they like it best of all. Over here they also prefer its taste and they're all highly enthusiastic about its modest price.

Here the British Colonial Hotel, aristocratic center of wintertime Nassau, offers hospitality with many unusual services and a varied program of guest activities . . . luxury of living, modern comfort . . . in a garden estate beside the restless-hued beauty of a Southern sea.

One Reason for Your Good Health!

An Adequate Supply of Pure Water

As an accommodation to patrons arriving in town during the hours that our office is closed (Saturday after 12 noon, Sundays, Holidays and between the hours of 5 P. M. and 8 A. M.) the order will receive prompt attention if phoned to our Pumping Station. Telephone number 4732.

Purity of water is essential to community health and the maintenance of a constant adequate supply of pure water is a task of no mean proportion. Water furnished consumers through the mains of the West Palm Beach Water Company is as pure as it is humanely possible to make it. There is a constant, never-ending effort to keep it so. How successful this utility has been in the task is evidenced in the reports of the city health officer, the Florida State Board of Health and the United States Public Health Service. Each of these three health-guarding agencies check samples of West Palm Beach Water Company water at regular intervals.

Thus Proclaimed Edward I. In The Year 1300

. . . ALL SILVER WARES MUST BE OF EASTERLING QUALITY . . .

Living Eastward of England were the German Tribes, and the English termed them Easterlings.

Famed for the fine quality of their silver money, they were called in to reduce the English silver to their own fine standard, and so was established in England the "Easterling Standard".

In the course of years, the first two letters of the word Easterling were dropped, and thus was formed the "STERLING" SILVER of today.

FIVE FOREIGN COUNTRIES

a day from Miami

FLORIDA vacationists have discovered a new "wrinkle"—a side-trip abroad via giant Pan American "clipper ships that fly." Visit any of five foreign countries within one day! This way you take a sea voyage without riding on the sea. It is as though your ship took wings, because you cruise well over 100 miles an hour in these huge 40-passenger airliners, yet have such comforts as club chairs, broad aisles to stroll along, smoking compartments, attentive steward service.

These clipper ships of the air are larger than those in which Columbus discovered America—have more power than a locomotive—are manned by experienced crews of five, and maintain two-way radio communication with shore.

2 HOURS TO NASSAU OR HAVANA
$22 one way $35 round trip

Daily service, leaving at 8:00 A.M. for Havana, and 8:30 A.M. for Nassau, from the Pan American International Seaplane base at Dinner Key, Miami.

IN ONE DAY you can visit either Jamaica, aptly called the "Isle of June"—or Merida, where the Maya ruins offer grandeur like that of the Egyptian Pyramids. Or Haiti, the Magic Island . . .

IN TWO LEISURELY DAYS you can go to Mexico City, Panama, Colombia, Venezuela, Santo Domingo, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or the British West Indies.

WITHIN A WEEK you can visit such places as the Guianas, the Amazon, Rio de Janeiro, Lima—even Montevideo and Buenos Aires, so far down in South America that the seasons are reversed—it's summer there when it's winter in the United States.

THE NEW LINCOLN

A finer motor car than ever before

There are a great many people in this community who admire and appreciate fine motor cars. It is they, especially, whom we invite to inspect the Lincoln, for this interpretation of the coachmakers' and the engineers' art should gratify the most critical tastes.

You will find that the new Lincoln represents a distinct advance over its illustrious predecessors. It combines the best of modern design with a dignity which is Lincoln's own. For all its length, sturdiness and comfort, this year's car is more alert, more flexible, more responsive to gear shifting and braking than ever before.

The famous V-12 cylinder engine is now placed forward in the frame, so that the weight of rear-seat passengers is poised ahead of the axle, rather than directly over it. Because of this new designing, there is greater room, as well as greater comfort, in the new Lincoln bodies. Rear doors in some models are as much as five inches wider. Within the car are many new refinements, such as the redesigned instrument panel and glove compartment, concealed curtains and the inlaid walnut trim. Every luxurious appointment for the comfort and convenience of passengers has been included.

The new Lincoln is available in eighteen standard and custom body types, the latter built by Brunn, Judkins, Le Baron and Willoughby. From honeycomb radiator grille to graceful, slanting rear end, these new cars reflect the creative skill of foremost designers.

The Lincoln will be on display each day from 10 A. M. TO 10 P. M.

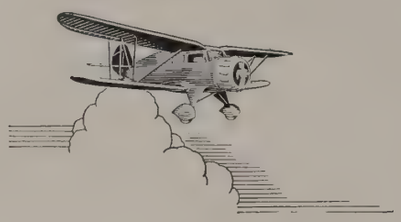
BELVEDERE AIRPORT
OF THE PALM BEACHES



IT IS WITH genuine pleasure that we announce to the residents and visitors of the Palm Beaches that we are again taking over the operation of the Belvedere Airport located approximately one mile west of West Palm Beach.

We look forward to the reopening of the airport for the Winter season because of the marvelous spirit of cooperation manifested to us last year and we are determined on this occasion to merit the approval of the residents which was so wholeheartedly extended to us in our former management of the airport.

We are happy to announce that once again the operation of Belvedere Airport will be in the competent hands of Mr. Edward S. Maloney, a flier of international repute.

In conjunction with the adequate and up-to-date equipment of which we are so justly proud, we are certain that we can conduct our operations with the same conscientious and proven thoroughness which characterized them in former years. We have facilities for charter work with competent Transport pilots licensed by the Department of Commerce for trips by air to any points in the United States. In addition, we have training ships available for students and the competency of our instructors is second to none.

We extend at this time a most hearty invitation to all to visit our airport and to become acquainted with our personnel and equipment.

Resort Tennis

INTEREST in resort tennis has been heightened by round-robin matches which have been played frequently at the Bath and Tennis Club and on the courts of the Palm Beach Tennis Club. The former have consisted of mixed doubles matches, usually played Friday afternoons before a smart gathering with many members of resort society taking part. Attractive prizes are donated by prominent club members to add zest to the tourney. The regular Sunday afternoon round-robins at the Palm Beach Tennis Club, which attract a large gallery, brings together prominent resort players and well known professionals, offering outstanding matches.

Playing before a large and interested gallery of members and guests, in one of the first matches of the season at the Bath and Tennis Club, Miss Lillian Feitner and her partner, David Hearst, staged a last minute rally to win the event and were presented with trophies given by Mrs. Margaret Emerson.

Miss Feitner and Mr. Hearst came from behind in the last match to defeat Countess Maria Signorini and Edward Townsend, 5-1, the five games putting them into the first rank with 25 games won and 17 lost.

Miss Natalie Follmer and Peter Ordway took second place, winning 24 games and losing 18, while two teams tied for third position. These included Miss Dorothy Richards and R. Stuyvesant Pierrepont, Jr., and Countess Maria Signorini and Edward Townsend.

Play throughout the match until the last few sets was close with a fine brand of tennis being exhibited by all participating.

Summary of games as follows: Miss Lillian Feitner and David Hearst, 25 games won and 17 lost; Natalie Follmer and Peter Ordway, 24 won and 18 lost; Countess Maria Signorini and Edward Townsend, 23 won and 19 lost; Miss Dorothy Richards and R. Stuyvesant Pierrepont, Jr., 23 won and 19 lost; Mrs. Aksel C. P. Wickfeld and Walter Van Pelt, 22 won and 20 lost; Mr. and Mrs. Vadim Makaroff, 21 won and 21 lost; Miss Adelaide Moffett and Alfred Vanderbilt, 19 won and 23 lost; Miss Marian Reggio and Jeffery Roche, 11 won and 31 lost.

Another interesting tourney marking the opening of the winter season of Sunday afternoon round-robins at the Palm Beach Tennis Club, saw T. T. Oughterson and Paul Heston playing a spectacular brand of tennis, and not losing a match, take top honors with 29 games won and 13 lost.

The team of Charles Harris and Rudy Noble, touted to come out on top, failed to click as smoothly as on previous occasions and was forced to second place with 25 games won and 17 lost.

An unusually large gallery watched the matches, which were excellently played.

Following is the summary by teams: T. T. Oughterson and Paul Heston, 29 games won and 13 lost; Charles Harris and Rudy Noble, 25 games won and 17 lost; Langford Harris and Allan K. Wylie, 23 games won and 19 lost; Luther A. Wait and John Cardegna, 22 games won and 20 lost; Bruce Sidey and George Agutter, 20 games won and 22 lost; Jack Ohlhaber and Gordon W. Lynn, 19 games won and 23 lost; D. H. Coddington and Dan Kenny, 16 games won and 26 lost; R. Winn and James Kenny, 14 games won and 28 lost.

The first meeting of the Garden Club of Palm Beach this season was held at Casa Alejandro, the home of the president, Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock. Plans were made to picture in third dimension process slides many of Palm Beach's most attractive gardens and patios and to show them at various Garden Clubs throughout the country. This decision was made after the club members had viewed slides of gardens in Bar Harbor and other cities which were shown by Mr. Robert V. Brost, who was introduced by the Garden Club of America. Interest was shown in the map of Florida being prepared by the Halifax Garden Club (comprising Ormond and Daytona Beach) and which presents infinite possibilities for use in decorative as well as a practical way. Resolutions of sympathy were passed on the death of Mrs. Henry Phipps and Mr. Edward Lowber Welsh, both former Garden Club members. Several new members were voted into the club. Interest was shown in the course in Flower Arrangement to be given by Miss Alice Morgan Carson, of Greenwich, Conn., next month at the Palm Beach Art Center. An expression of thanks was made for the anonymous gift which made it possible to plant the 29 cocoanut trees along the ocean front. Thanks were also extended to the gardeners for their assistance in beautifying the Royal Palm Way approach to the bridge and for their work in the Flower Show. A letter was read which had been received from Mr. L. Trevette Lockwood, secretary of the Town Planning Commission, who praised the Garden Club's work in the beautifying of the approach to the bridge. Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse, chairman of the Flower Show to be held on February 22, 23 and 24 in the Royal Poinciana Conservatories, gave an excellent report. Many members signed for garden space in the coming show. Following the meeting, tea was served by Mrs. McKinlock in the tile room of Casa Alejandro.

Some of his paintings will be exhibited at the coming exhibition at the Palm Beach Art Center which will open on January 31. Among these are English scenes which will illustrate a new edition of Mr. Candler's book "A Century and One", which appeared last year. They were painted in his studio in the Chelsea section of London, where he and Mrs. Candler went in May to pass the London season.

Tastes And Toilettes

WITH all the balls to be given in the clubs of the resort within the next fortnight or so, interest still centers in evening wear, glamorous and glittering, or quaint and Victorian, as you prefer. Somehow, a bit of sparkle always seems especially appropriate in dresses to be worn at gala affairs in the outdoor dancing places of the resort. The glint of tropic moonlight reflects charmingly from silver bead embroidery or scattered rhinestones, or shines enmeshed in the rich fabric of gold and silver lame, as smartly dressed women sit at enshadowed tables beneath the palm trees and under the stars. White is always a favorite in Palm Beach, and whether for sports or evening wear white with a vivid color accent is always seen. Blues of every hue vie with white for preference, from delicate baby blue to the deep shade of the water-hyacinths that float in the Florida waterways.

* * * *

Mrs. Nathan D. Bill, a prominent member of the winter colony, wore at the Everglades Club a beautiful evening gown of sky blue and silver lame, with draped neckline. The accompanying cape jacket had fullness in large pleats, caught at the waistline by a wide band that tied in front, a very novel and attractive feature.

* * * *

Mrs. Alfred D. Bell wore at luncheon the other day, a two piece suit of white wool knit with patch pockets, and an interesting shoulder yoke extending to points on the sleeves. A soft scarf of commander blue crepe created a pleasing contrast. Her smart hat of white felt and white accessories completed her costume.

* * * *

Mrs. Charles Morgan, while strolling on the boardwalk at Breakers Beach, wore a smart frock of white crepe with a short cape of the same fabric lined in deep red, with a scarf of white fox and a white felt hat with cleverly manipulated crown. With it she carried a small pouch bag of red string.

* * * *

Princess Balthasar Gyalmi Odescalchi wore at the Bath and Tennis Club, an ensemble of madonna blue, the frock with small rolled collar, patch pockets and clusters of pleats at front and back of the skirt. The hip length jacket was fashioned with box pleats in the center back, stitched halfway, then flaring softly to the hem. Her smart white toyo hat was banded in blue and with it she wore white accessories.

* * * *

Mrs. Florence Iswalski wore at luncheon at the Bath and Tennis Club, a frock of primrose yellow crepe closed at the shoulders with small pearl buttons. The slanting pockets and short cape sleeves were edged with the pleated fabric. With it she wore a wide brimmed panama hat and white accessories.

* * * *

Mrs. John H. Gibbons, at the Bath and Tennis Club the other day, was becomingly attired in a frock of jade green crepe with flat collar ending in double points and fastened with interesting brown bone buttons. Inverted pleats on the sleeves and back were very effective. Her large straw hat of dusty pink was trimmed with a cluster of green flowers placed high on the crown.

* * * *

Mrs. D. Dulany Hunter looked charming on the beach at the Bath and Tennis Club, wearing heavy white waffle crepe slacks flaring sharply below the knee, a double breasted jacket of the same fabric, with a pale green scarf and a beret of white toyo.

* * * *

At the Bath and Tennis Club recently, Mrs. Thomas M. Carnegie, Jr., wore an attractive linen frock of dusty pink, fastened down the front with large pearl buttons. The wide panel in back ended in pleats at the hem line and a scarf of pink and white printed motif on a black ground was a diverting feature. Her hat was an off-the-face model matching her frock.

* * * *

Mrs. Theodore DeLong Buhl came to the Sun and Surf Club looking ver smart in satin pajamas of Commander blue. The loose little trousers were topped by a shirtwaist with a sailor collar and short sleeves.

* * * *

Miss Anne Mitchell's becoming sport frock worn at luncheon at the Bath and Tennis Club, featured white anchors and stars on a ground of brilliant red, fastened at the side with white bone anchors and having wide reveres of white peasant linen at the back neckline.

MRS. MAURICE FATIO

sketched at "El Studio" wearing a gown of great simplicity, in an unusually beautiful print. Of heavy black crepe the material was relieved by brilliantly colored clusters. The decolleté of the gown was caught with a bow-knot of diamonds.

Bright, berrylike buttons and cire satin trim this modified shirtmaker dress with tucked bosom front, from Peck and Peck. You may have it in string beige, commander blue, white with navy, or bittersweet with brown. The featherweight angora felt has a good-looking contrasting angora yarn trim.

Miss Peggy Le Boutillier wears a hand blocked silk beach ensemble consisting of blouse, trunks and separate skirt—all closely following the "Native Influence."—From Best & Co.

Miss Emily Custis Stevens, popular young debutante has selected the chartreuse straw hat designed by Jean King, which closely resembles the knitted suit of the same color, and suitable for Southern wear dress sports. The detail crown is flattered by a loose band and bow in navy. The knitted costume is chartreuse an blue is by Martha West.

News Of The Skyways

HUNDREDS of airplanes of all types, ranging from huge Martin bomers to tiny Aeronicas and lightning pursuit planes, flew over the resort moving to and from the Miami All-American Airs Races held recently affording resorters an excellent view of them as they went droning by. One squad of bombing planes from Langley Field circled over the resort and went through military maneuvers before continuing on. Pursuit planes skimmed by in orderly groups of three, looking like a flock of huge birds.

Golfers at the resort clubs were constantly divided between sinking a putt and watching the unusual sight of so many planes whizzing by, all intent on one objective, Miami.

The Waco-Belvedere airport played host to many fliers arriving here in their own planes for a sojourn.

The field is under the direction of the Waco Sales of New York, Inc., with Mr. Edward Maloney, nationally known aviator in charge. More than a dozen planes are quartered in the hangars at the present time.

MR. JACK RUTHERFURD
with his new 225 HP Waco Cabin plane, which he is using for flying trips. Mr. Rutherfurd flew from New York to Palm Beach in this ship in nine hours and forty minutes.

Among arrivals at the airport during the past week, were included: Mr. George Kent, Jr., of New York in a Monocoupe; Mr. Gordon Brown of Berlin, N. H., one of the owners of the Shawano Plantation, in a Travelair; Mr. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, in a Douglas Amphibian; Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt, in a Douglas Amphibian; Mr. John M. L. Rutherfurd, well known sportsman, in a new Waco cabin plane.

Mr. Morehead Patterson of New York and Southampton arrived recently piloting his Beechcraft plane. Accompanying him were Miss Nancy Harkness, one of the few feminine transport pilots in the country, and Miss Suzanne Humphreys, prominent young flyer and granddaughter of Dr. Frank Landon Humphreys of Boynton.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Loening of Margrove, Mill Neck, L. I., flew down from New York to Miami, and motored to Palm Beach. They have a private amphibian base at their new home on Ocean Boulevard.

Mr. Louis A. Yancey, nationally known flyer and pioneer in the development of the autogiro plane, which he is flying at the present time, was a visitor at the airport. Mr. Ignatius Sargent of Boston also arrived at the field in a Monocoupe and is making a sojourn at Palm Beach.

Miami as a center of air travel to the tropics is brought into the spotlight again by reports just received from the Pan American Airways System showing that during the past thirty days approximately 1000 more travelers took the air routes to points on the Spanish Main than during the same period last year.

Air travelers in the Caribbean district, including the West Indies, British colonies, Mexico and northern South America, this year, totaled 3530 as against 2066 a year ago.

This represents an increase in air travel, centered at Miami, of 38 per cent. Among winter visitors the most popular air trips continue to be the 2-hour flights on the huge flying boats to Havana and Nassau, with increasing numbers taking the longer one-day cruises to Mexico, Jamaica and Haiti.

Among the prominent air travelers of late were Irenee Dupont of the well known Dupont family of Wilmington, Delaware; Mitchell F. Hepburn, prime minister of Ontario, Canada; Lady Bede Clifford, wife of the governor of the Bahama Islands; Donato Daminara, first vice president of Rotary International, of Montevideo, Uruguay; Efrem Zimbalist, famous violinist; Sir Selwin and Lady Grier of Trinidad; Senator R. R. Raynolds of North Carolina; Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, socialites and widely known patrons of the sports; William Paley, president Columbia Broadcasting Company and Mrs. Paley, and numerous others.

Miami's latest contribution to air transportation in South America is a new type of fleet ten-passenger transport plane known simply as the "GA-43" type.

This new ship, owned by Pan American Airways, is to go into the unique air service on the Amazon River from Para, Brazil, 800 miles into the jungle to Manaos, center of the rubber industry.

Introducing into South American air transport a new type of plane, the all metal, low wing monoplane will be able to transport passengers, mail and express on the Brazilian run at the rate of 140 miles per hour. The ship is equipped with pontoons for landing on the Amazon River.

Palm Beach in the distance, lying between the Atlantic and Lake Worth, the air traveler has a good view of West Palm Beach from the airport.

debutante daughter of Mrs. Frederick Johnson of New York and Via Bellaria. Miss MacKinnon was introduced to society together with Miss Beatrice Todd Graham, niece of Mrs. E. Graham Lewis of New York, at a supper dance at the Ritz-Carlton on December 8. She inherits the talent of her mother, known to the art world as Mary MacKinnon, and is continuing her study of art at the Sarah Lawrence school.

The debutante season is over—the little season opens for the older ones—and benefits galore fill the social calendar. Most of the important debutante affairs were given at the Ritz-Carlton, so ideally set with its separate entrance, grand staircase and Empire ballroom, for large dances. Mrs. Chauncey Olcott's supper dance for her talented Janet—who will make her debut as a concert pianist also—and Mrs. S. K. Coleman's dinner dance for her daughter, the stunning Pamela Prime, opened what was a mad, merry whirl for this year's debbies. Probably the most beautiful were Mr. and Mrs. William T. Dewart's party for their daughter, Mary Dewart, and Mrs. Edgar Church's for her daughter, Nancy. For the Dewart's dinner dance, the ball-room was transformed into a tropical garden, silvered poplar trees, ropes of smilax and yellow roses and snapdragons everywhere. Before Mrs. Church's dance the Maxwell Hydes gave a dinner for their daughter, Natalie, in the Oval Restaurant, the guests joining the later party. The ball-room of the Ritz-Carlton was also the scene of the Junior Assemblies which for a selected list of the debutantes is quite the most important affair of the season. At the first Assembly early in December only the debutantes whose parents are subscribers are invited, but for the second, in January, other debutantes are included. Among the subscribers for the season are the Misses Beatrice Abbott, Carmen Mumford, Eleanor Bloom, Constance L. J. F. Bruen, Elizabeth Campbell, Jean Preston, Mary Clark, Leta Clews, Elizabeth Cole, Kathleen Coleman, Mildred Davis, Helen Van C. de Peyster, Margaret Edmonds, Helen McEwan, Cynthia Fraser, Evelyn Gould, Valerie Graham, Rosemary Baltz, Maud Watts, Elizabeth Halsey, Martha Hutcheson, Priscilla Kennaday, Thedora Kingsbury, Dorothy McEwan,Marcia Meigs, Ann Mitchell, Eugenia Morris, Katharine Pier, Eleanora Post, Suzanne Rumbough, Gertrude Schley, Alice B. Another dinner was one Mr. and Mrs. George A. Trowbridge gave for Mr. and Mrs. Ellery S. Husted and Mr. and Mrs. William D. Stevens. Mr. and Mrs. Reginald V. Hiscoe gave a dinner at their home and took their guests to the rainbow room for supper and dancing. In their party were Mr. and Mrs. William R. The benefit for the National Republican Builders, the American premiere of the London motion picture success, "The Unfinished Symphony," at the Roxy Theater, was followed by a supper dance at the Manhattan Music Hall, Fifty-third Street and Broadway. Mrs. Louis J. De Milhau was chairman of the benefit. Among those attending were Mmes. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Fair Vanderbilt, James Corrigan, John B. Marsh, Francis P. Garvan, Charles McVeigh, Harry Addinsell, John C. Hughes, James McVicker, Gordon Rentschler, Victor Harris, Frank Clifford, Miss Barbara Stoddard, Harry Martin, Harold Carhart, Henry C. Breck, Frederick Richards, Carroll Alker, C. M. Chapin, Prentice Cromwell, Beverly Bogert, De Wolf Clark and Jeremiah Milbank; Messrs. Paul D. Cravath, Walter Cluett, Newbold Morris, Samuel Weldon and Demarest Lloyd. The motion picture is a romantic story woven around the life of Schubert and furnishes a clew to the reason why he left his B minor symphony unfinished. The music is by the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra, the chorus of the Vienna State Opera, the Gypsy Band and the Wiener Saengerknaben, boy choir. A feature of the supper dance was a barmaid's parody, "The Builder Uppers."

When tea dancing was revived at the Ritz-Carlton the question was asked, "what is the correct costume for tea dancing?" To settle it, a jury of fashion editors, including Virginia Pope of the New York Times, Mrs. Carmel Snow of Harper's Bazaar, Kay Daniels of the New York Journal, and Mrs. Margaret Stone of Good Housekeeping, voted that Miss Natalie Hyde, the debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Hyde, was the most appropriately attired guest.

Miss Natalie Hyde is shown here at tea in the Palm Court of the Ritz-Carlton wearing her prize winning costume—black rough crepe brightened with cerise velvet and a black beret sparkling with rhinestone clips. With her is the runner-up Miss Pamela Prime, wearing the fez she brought back with her from Egypt.

La Solano, A Spanish Home

The stair hall of La Solano, pictured above, is notable for the beautiful wrought iron and glazed Spanish grilles that form one entire wall.

PROMINENT among the beautiful homes that line the Ocean Boulevard, both for authenticity of design and for beauty of execution, is the Spanish type house that is the winter home of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Richard Reynolds, of Jackson, Michigan, who have been members of the Palm Beach winter colony for many years. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds are members of the Gulf Stream Golf Club, the Bath and Tennis, the Everglades, the Sailfish and the Palm Beach Yacht Club, and other important clubs in New York and in their home city. They have a stalwart young son, Wiley Jr., who attends Hotchkiss School and a sub-debutante daughter, Miss Annette Hood Reynolds, who are very popular with the young people of the winter colony. Consequently the Reynolds' home, La Solano—easterly wind, in the liquid Spanish tongue—is large and spacious and hospitably planned for entertainment. The entrance is on Clarke Avenue so that the entire eastern elevation of the house has an unobstructed view of the blue Atlantic a stone's throw away. The house was designed by Treanor and Fatio in the "Palm Beach Spanish" style, which gives the exterior the pleasing balconies and windows and doorways usually reserved for the intimate courtyard or patio in the true Spanish style, whose exteriors are severe and forbidding and speak of a less peaceful and hospitable era.

The stair hall of La Solano, which is pictured here, is notable for the beautiful wrought iron and glazed Spanish grilles that form one entire wall. The coffered ceiling has a distinct Moorish feeling, with deeply recessed panels treated in color and gold. The tile floor is laid in the symmetrical cube and star pattern. Fine old paintings of the Italian Florentine school adorn the walls. Tile topped tables and some fine pieces of antique furniture are used with a deep comfortable sofa and other modern pieces.

The dining-room has a floor of tile in the same Moorish pattern, and modulated plaster walls. The furniture is essentially Spanish, with stamped leather seats and backs, carved wood frames and typical gold fringe. Among the old Spanish pieces is a very fine table, and others of especial note are the old Spanish dresser and antique screen. The paintings on the walls are in keeping with the atmosphere of the room. The ceiling is especially ornate, in deep coffered Moorish design such as found in the Alhambra and in old palaces around Seville.

In the living-room of La Solano the Moorish influence is also very apparent, not only in the carved beamed ceiling laid intricately and adding immeasurably to the interest of the room, but also in the treatment of the arches in the recesses that flank the large window. In these shelved niches is displayed an interesting collection of small objects d'art. The walls are finished in a series of large panels, surmounted by a frieze of smaller panels, all done in Florida pecky cypress, one of the most unique and decorative of woods.

Armchairs of stamped Spanish leather studded with ornamental nailheads, several old Spanish and modern tile-topped tables and comfortable upholstered furniture are used together in the living-room, giving the room a home-like, livable quality that is seldom if ever found in a strictly period room.

An indispensible feature of the Spanish house is the patio. It is the gathering place and the playground of the family. The walled patio of La Solano is a delightful place, gay with sub-tropical planting. A large swimming pool with a coping of quarry key stone is filled with water from the neighboring ocean. A low stone balustrade separates the patio proper from the grounds about the pool.

The loggia facing the patio is exceptionally pleasing. The floor design of six-pointed stars set in alternate squares and circles is carried out in a combination of quarry key stone and old Cuban tile. The walls are stuccoed and the Moorish arcade of slender columns has a low diased wall. The ceiling is beamed, with ornamental cut-out Spanish brackets. Potted palms and flowers enliven the loggia and the wicker furniture blends nicely with the sub-tropical landscaping.

The dining-room is floored with tile in Moorish pattern and has a deep coffered Moorish ceiling such as found in the old palaces near Seville.

Parent-Teacher Association Benefit

AMONG annual musical events in the resort, the benefit concert for the advancement of the Parent-Teacher Association is one of the most popular, not only for the high type of entertainment which is always presented but also because of the universal appeal of the Association's work. This year the Parent-Teacher Association, of which Mrs. John I. Leonard is president, is presenting the Sittig Trio at the auditorium of the Palm Beach Junior High School in Seaview Avenue, on Tuesday evening, January 29, at 9 P. M. The concert is under the management of Mrs. John Watson Doe.

The Sittig Trio is a rare combination of individual artistry and ensemble unity. Two of its members, Mr. Frederick V. Sittig, pianist, and his talented young daughter, Miss Margaret Sittig, violinist, were heard here last season at the Everglades Club under distinguished patronage. The third artist of the trio, Mr. Edgar H. Sittig, cellist, is son and brother to the other members of the group. He will make his first appearance in the resort at this concert.

Long before the two children came into the world, their father was a brilliant pianist. From earliest infancy Margaret and Edgar showed such a delight in music and took to its study with such marked enthusiasm, that the parents agreed to give their natural talent full opportunity to develop.

At the age of eight Margaret was performing an entire concerto from memory, astounding her critical audience in Berlin. Edgar, after studying both violin and piano, took up the 'cello at the suggestion of the Grand Duchess of Oldenburg, sister-in-law of Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, who was interested in ensemble music. So the Sittig Trio was born.

The organization has won an enviable place in the field of chamber music. Its impeccable style of delivery has made it in demand for concerts and also for radio work. In April it will resume playing in the Eddy Brown hour. The star of the Palmolive program, Miss Virginia Rea, was married to Mr. Edgar V. Sittig about a year ago, and will accompany the trio to the resort.

The Palm Beach Parent-Teacher Association is especially active and has accomplished many things for the benefit of the schools of the resort. Its work is of utmost importance to the community and its activities deserve support.

Among the activities which the proceeds of the annual benefits make possible is the employment of a trained librarian in the school library one day each week to give supervised circulation of books; it buys new books which will supplement the student's reading; finances the school orchestra and gives as much music and instruction as is possible; maintains and operates the school cafeteria; takes care of welfare work within the school if needed, and many other services. In fact the Parent-Teacher Association stands ready to supply anything that is necessary to keep the school up to the required standard. Parents of children coming down from the North will find the work in the Palm Beach public schools continues their school course in the north.

In past seasons, the Palm Beach Parent-Teacher Association's benefit concerts have been well patronized by members of the winter colony.

ROYAL PALMS MARCH DOWN TO THE SHORE

The tropical planting on the Charles E. Bingham estate includes a variety of palms. The above magnificent trees are among the most admired in the resort.

NASSAU

BRITISH and American residents and winter visitors were thrilled today to learn that His Royal Highness, The Duke of Kent, and the charming Princess Marina, Duchess of Kent, will visit in Nassau, February 20 as guests at Government House. His Excellency, the Governor, Sir. Bede Clifford, received the information from London Thursday. Elaborate preparations of course, will be made to entertain the Royal Couple during their stay here.

It is understood that the Duke and Duchess of Kent are leaving London for a cruise of the West Indies on January 25th, on the Canadian Pacific Liner, Duchess of Richmond. The ship is scheduled to make a 48-day cruise and the Royal couple will undoubtedly stop at other British ports in the West Indies enroute.

The opening of the Sea Bubble Club, a delightful society rendezvous, was the occasion for a number of parties given by the cottage colony and hotel folk who are already here. His Excellency, Governor Sir Bede Clifford and the Hon. Lady Clifford, entertained for a party of eight.

His Emminence, Patrick Cardinal O'Connell, Arch Bishop of Boston, will arrive in Nassau on the S. S. Munargo on Monday, to spend the season at the Hermitage, his winter home here. He will be accompanied by his secretary, The Rev. Jeremiah S. Minahan, D. D.

MIAMI BEACH

WITH THE President's Birthday Ball a little more than a week away, resort attention turns toward the event in which the nation joins in paying tribute to Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Warm Springs Foundation, in which he is interested.

One of the largest of the balls to be given in the Greater Miami area will take place January 30 at the Miami Biltmore Country club where more than 1,000 guests are expected to dine and dance on the 53rd birthday anniversary of the chief executive. Emil Hurja, member of the National Democratic committee who has been sojourning at the Miami Biltmore, with Mrs. Hurja, of Washington, D. C., was a guest of the Key Largo Anglers club recently. Howard Chandler Christy, the artist and illustrator, was also a guest of the club while vacationing here. He has returned to New York but expects to be back later with a party of friends.

BENEATH THE STARS

BECAUSE Palm Beach's restaurants play so important a role in the social life of the resort, any signal event concerning any one of them is perforce of interest to the colonist, the tourist and the world-at-large, for probably no where else in the world today is there so great a concentration of wealth and fashion in so small an area. No matter where one may go one is bound to run into a notable, and this fact provides the real thrill and adventure of public entertaining here. In this respect alone Palm Beach is unique, but then it is unique in so many respects that to soliloquize along these lines leads to nowhere where we haven't been before.

Beginning with Monday of last week and for the week ending a week from tomorrow, several restaurant mileposts, have passed, each of signal importance. For instance, there was the debut a week ago yesterday of Bruz Fletcher as an entertainer in the Sidewalk Cafe at The Patio. A bonny spot, if ever there was one, to while away the late afternoon hours and to listen to the nicely naughty ditties of the irrepressible Mr. Fletcher. There was a gala turnout, indeed, and the assemblage beamed and applauded Mr. Sam Salvin's new venture.

Then on Thursday night Jardin Bijou made its initial bow of the season, and everyone went into a dither over the Mario di Polo Orchestra. It's a swell musical aggregation, whether you dance or just sit out and listen, and it's a safe bet that this, Mr. di Polo's first season here, will not be his last.

Jardin Bijou is well-named. "Garden of Jewels." What if the jewels are horticultural. Smiling hibiscus. Gaudy bougainvillea. Jewels all. And in their midst, greeting his guests with smiling urbanity, Mr. Louis Cantone himself, Jardin Bijou's entrepreneur.

FRANCES MADDUX

A charming portrait of the young singer whose sophisticated songs amuse guests at the Cocktail Hour in Whitehall's new bar.

In the days of Good Queen Bess a number of the ships of the Spanish Armada ran afoul of the Irish coast. But many a lusty sailor lad, the Lord be thankit, was saved for the handsome Irish lassies. They married and were happy even after, and brought into the world a splendid progeny with the finest racial characteristic of each. Costello-Irish they were called, and still are. A grand combination.

And another grand combination is the good old Irish corned beef and cabbage served every Thursday night in the typically Spanish setting of El Studio. The first of these Hispano-Hibernian functions—if such they may be called—got away to a good start on Thursday of last week, and you can go to El Studio every Thursday night for the rest of the season, and enjoy Irish turkey to your heart's content.

The long-heralded Valle Erney Orchestra materialized on Saturday night, when Patio Marguery made its formal bow, and instantly proved itself well-worth waiting for. They've got what it takes when it comes to dispensing music of the quality wanted by Palm Beach. Jackson Hines interpolated with a happily-selected program.

The Marguery has been redecorated by Mr. Casey Roberts. The cocktail room and the lounge are adorned with a number of his "Ragbag Pictures", which he originated.

Club Savoy has made several changes in its Revue, shown twice nightly. Joe Cappo, has left to fill contractual engagements elsewhere, the new master of ceremonies being Jerry Lopez, whose technique in this particular direction leaves nothing to be desired. Irma Dear is also a newcomer. Her specialty is singing intimate songs at the tables, and with her clear, bell-like voice, she essays this usually difficult role with charming results. And between whiles the Westchester-Biltmore Country Club Orchestra deals out heavenly music.

Which closes a week of events interesting indeed. And now we come to what is always one of the season's most important social functions — the formal opening tomorrow night of the Colony Club for its seventh season. Again under the direction of Mr. Arthur C. Hand, founder and president, the Palm Beach season is never really open until the Colony Club throws wide its hospitable portals. So mark to-morrow night down on your engagement pad. For all the world will be there, and that means you.

And now for a few notes on who was seen with whom whilst gadding beneath the stars. For instance, the Thomas Morrison Carnegies Jr. with the George E. Kents, Jr., at the opening of the Sidewalk Cafe at The Patio. Mr. Carnegie is a grand-nephew of the late Andrew Carnegie. His wife is the former Miss Blanche Strebeigh, daughter of Mrs. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte. The Bonapartes are due here shortly.

With The Anglers

PALM BEACH, which has become the recognized headquarters for sailfish during the past few years, is rapidly gaining a reputation as a marlin habitat, with one of the largest on record for the East Coast of Florida, being landed here recently. All types of game fish can be found in the blue waters of the Gulf Stream, but these two members of the finny tribe furnish the ultimate in thrills for the veteran angler, whose one hope is that he can bring back a sailfish or marlin measuring the famous 8 feet, or more.

Mr. John P. Cook, of New York, who is a guest at the Breakers, made what is thought to be a record catch for Palm Beach waters recently when he landed a huge marlin measuring 9 feet in length and weighing 140 pounds, after a four hour battle which took the boat 25 miles due east of Jupiter light.

Mr. Cook was accompanied by Mrs. Stewart Stanley of Washington, aboard Capt. Harry Hunt's boat the "Imp," from Poinciana basin.

Intending to fish for Marlin, Capt. Hunt had rigged a six ounce tip and 15 thread line. Cruising along just east of the former Blue Heron hotel, about 12 o'clock, Mr. Cook got the strike, and the battle was on. Mr. Cook, who is an experienced angler and who has been fishing here successfully for several weeks, played the huge fish like a veteran. Capt. Hunt handled the boat, to give his angler the best possible advantage, and Mr. Cook stayed with it. Reeling in whenever there was any advantage to be gained and letting the marlin have its head when it started on its wide runs, it became an intensive contest between the man in the boat and the marlin in the water. Four hours later, and 25 miles away from the shoreline of Florida, the beautiful specimen of game fish was brought alongside, to give Mr. Cook the thrill that comes once in a lifetime. Three hours later, with both motors running, the group landed at the Poinciana basin, tired but happy in the knowledge that a record fish had been caught.

Although the islands off the Bahamas are the natural habitat of the marlin, same member of the sword-fish family as the sailfish, a number have been caught in local waters lately, which may indicate that Palm Beach will become as famous for its marlin as it is now for its sailfish.

MRS. C. D. KEELER
of Chicago, member of the Sailfish Club of Florida shown standing beside huge sailfish, measuring seven feet ten inches and weighing fifty-seven pounds, which she landed after a thrilling battle.

Mr. Edward V. Quinn landed one recently weighing 50 and 1-2 pounds, while out with Mr. E. G. Lauder on the latter's boat the "Sans Souci," and Capt. Walter Githens of the "Miss Sally," landed one while out with a party.

Sailfishing has attracted many resort anglers this season with practically all of them returning from the Gulf Stream with trophies of the catch.

Mr. Harry Rosenfeld, veteran sports fisherman, and well known resort resident in company with Mr. George McCann of New York, had a most successful day, bringing back three hefty prizes. The longest measured 7 feet, 6 inches and weighed 65 pounds. The other two Mr. Rosenfeld turned loose, following the practice established by gentlemen fishermen of the resort. Mr. McCann hooked two "sails", but they both got loose. They were aboard the "Miss Sally", with Capt. Walt Githens from the Poinciana basin.

Miss Peggy Cook of Southampton, L. I., brought in her first tropical fish, while fishing in the Gulf Stream with Capt. Harry Hunt of the "Imp", from the Poinciana basin. It was a hefty amberjack weighing 35 pounds. Mrs. Stewart Stanley of Washington, D. C., brought in her second sailfish measuring 7 feet, 4 inches and weighing 50 pounds, after a terrific battle lasting an hour and 15 minutes.

Dr. George N. Mayhew, of Nashville, Tenn., and Mr. W. Blake Leech of the same city, landed two fine "sails," recently while out with Capt. E. H. Scott on board the "Diane," from the City dock.

Dr. Mayhew's fish measured 7 feet, 8 inches in length and weighed 49 pounds and Mr. Leech's measured 7 feet, 6 inches and weighed 51 pounds. Dr. Mayhew also caught a 35 pound barracuda. Mr. Leech caught an 18 pound kingfish, Mr. Allan Hickerson, of Denver, Colo., also a member of the party caught a 35 pounds amberjack and 16 pound kingfish, and Mrs. Hickerson landed a barracuda weighing 21 pounds. Mrs. Leech and Mrs. Mayhew were also members of the party.

Mr. Stanley Smith, of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mr. William M. Miller, of Put-In-Bay, Ohio, recently terminated two days of successful fishing by landing five "sails." Mr. Miller took top honors by bringing one to gaff measuring 8 feet, 1 and 1-4 inches, which entitles him to a gold button.

● Experts consider the English to be the most discriminating judges of champagne. In England, for more than a century, Bollinger has been the favorite. We especially recommend the '24 and '26 vintages. Bottled in France.

● Jules Robin cognacs are unsurpassed in quality. We offer six ages, ranging from 3-Star (10 years old) to Grand Reserve (50 years old). Each is smooth, mellow—the finest cognac obtainable at its price. Bottled in France.

● You probably have had neither time nor inclination to try out all liquor brands for yourself. But you can find out which are the best. For you can secure and follow the advice of experts!

For 57 years the house of Julius Wile Sons & Co., has been selecting and importing outstanding foreign wines and spirits for exacting tastes.

Repeal found our organization ready with the finest products of 28 leading foreign shippers for whom we are sole U. S. agents—a list thoughtfully assembled during 3 generations.

Shown here are just a few of our importations. Each has been chosen for superb quality rather than mere popularity. We recommend these brands to you unreservedly.

Look for the Julius Wile Sons & Co. name on the label. It assures you that the contents have passed the tests of most exacting connoisseurs.

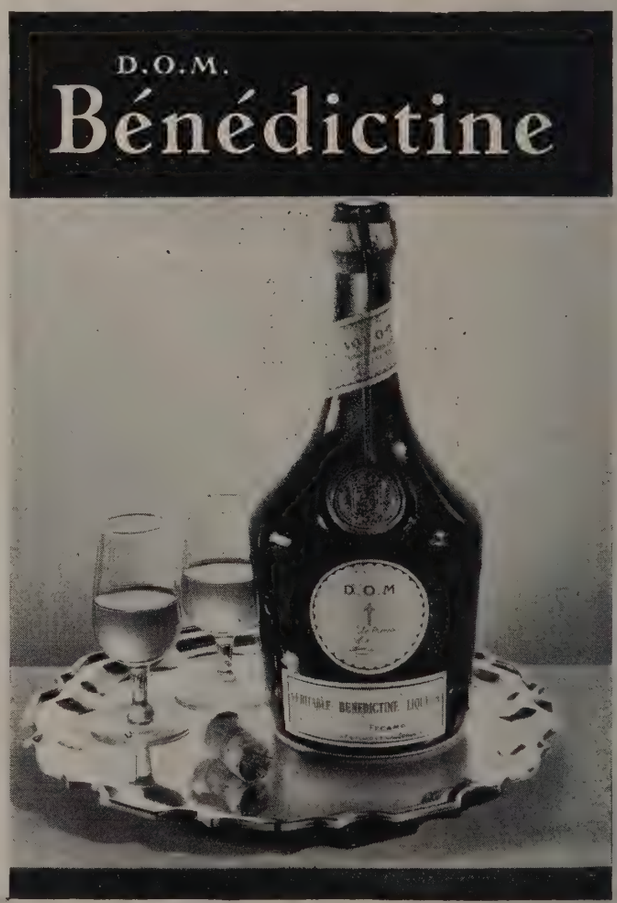
● Every drop of this famous Scotch whisky has been aged 8 years or more. It has just the right peat smoke taste. Look for the dimples in the bottle. The supreme liqueur Scotch is Dawson's Old Curio. Both bottled in Scotland.



● There is only one D.O.M. Bénédictine—still made at Fécamp, France, from the same secret formula perfected by the monks in 1510. King of after-dinner liqueurs for 400 years. Bénédictine also mixes royally in many cocktails.

TRIO OF ARTISTS

THE SITTIG TRIO

SELDOM does it happen that a musical organization wins so universal praise as has been accorded to the Sittig Trio, which will give a concert tonight, January 29, at the auditorium of the Palm Beach Junior High School for the benefit of the Palm Beach Parent-Teacher Association. The esteem in which the trio is held is shown by the size of the audiences at their concerts. Last year when Miss Margaret Sittig, violinist, and her father, Mr. Frederick V. Sittig, pianist, appeared at the Everglades Club in concert, the Singer music room was filled. The concert tonight, which presents in addition, her brother, Mr. Edgar H. Sittig, 'cellist, is expected to bring together a large audience of music lovers, who have shown a great deal of interest and enthusiasm in the appearance here of this ensemble.

Unlike many players of chamber music, the Sittig Trio has an understanding of the musical needs of varying publics. Although always of the highest calibre, their programs are varied and present music that appeals to a diversity of tastes. They have a fiery love of their art that communicates itself to their audiences. The close family relationship and the evidence of long musical association has produced a bond of unity and harmony that is felt by all who hear them.

Among the numbers that will be played tonight is a very old and beautiful trio by Loeillet in four movements; a group of 'cello solos that are varied and interesting; a Beethoven trio, one of the most melodious compositions of the great master; the Vieuxtemps concerto in D minor for violin; and an ensemble group including numbers by Debussy and Juon.

The concert is under the management of Mrs. John Watson Doe, who has been in charge of arrangements of many of the important musical events in past seasons. Members of the Parent-Teacher Association will form a part of the large audience, which will also include a large number of music-lovers in the winter colony who have had the pleasure of hearing the Sittig Trio in its Metropolitan appearances.

COTTAGE COLONY SOCIETY LIFE

PALM BEACH society is eagerly anticipating the arrival of several royal honeymooners this season, among whom the most distinguished are their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Kent. While full details of the itinerary have not been received from London, it is known that the Duke and his bride, the former Princess Marina of Greece, will conclude their honeymoon with a visit to Nassau where they will be guests of His Excellency Sir Bede E. H. Clifford, governor general of the Bahamas, and Lady Clifford at Government House. The royal couple will travel on the Duchess of Richmond, with stops at Jamaica, Barbados, Trinidad and other British West Indian ports, and rumor is current that their trip will include a short visit in Palm Beach en route. The Duke of Gloucester, another son of his Majesty King George V will be a guest at Government House in March on his return from England to Australia and if the Duke accepts the invitations extended him in Palm Beach, this resort will be included in his itinerary.

* * * *

The Countess of Warwick is among prominent arrivals in Palm Beach where she is a member of the house party at the ocean front villa of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Williams. Lady Warwick, the former Rose Bingham, granddaughter of Major General Sir Bingham, arrived in America on the Berengeria last week and spent several days in New York before coming south. The Earl was a house guest of the Williamses two seasons ago, later taking a cottage here with the Duke of Sutherland.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stirling Vanderbilt have returned to their ocean-front estate at Lantana following a fortnight's sojourn in the east and are entertaining several guests who returned south with them. Members of the houseparty are frequently joined for swimming and luncheon by friends from Palm Beach. Mr. Vanderbilt's brother-in-law and sister, Capt. Louis Jacques Balsan and Mrs. Balsan (nee Consuelo Vanderbilt) who are in residence at their Italian farmhouse on the southern end of Hypoluxo Island are almost daily visitors. Members of the Vanderbilt houseparty include Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Fish, Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop W. Aldrich, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Davis and Mrs. Oliver Iselin. In their honor, Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt entertained at a large dinner party on Thursday evening which was attended by many of Palm Beach's smart colonists.

Mrs. Henry Morgan Tilford of New York and Tuxedo Park is prominent among recent arrivals in the resort where she will pass the season at Oceanic, her cottage in Breakers Row. Coming with her for a visit were Mrs. Price Collier and Mr. J. R. Taylor of New York. Mrs. Tilford's grandson, Mr. Hunt Tilford Wagstaff, is expected to visit her later.

* * * *

Capt. Rt. Hon. Frederick E. Guest has departed for London to attend the opening of Parliament early in February. Capt. Guest has been passing a month at Villa Artemis, where Mrs. Guest and their son, Mr. Raymond Guest, will remain during the season. Their elder son, Mr. Winston F. C. Guest, with his bride, the former Miss Helena McCann, is not expected in Palm Beach this winter as he is playing polo in India, being a member of the Maharaja of Jaipur's redoutable team. This team, which recently won the championship of India at Calcutta, includes also Mr. Guest's cousin, Mr. Michael Phipps.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sanford have joined his father, Mr. John Sanford, at Villa Marina. They came to Palm Beach from Medway Plantation near Yemassee, S. C., where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Legendre (the former Miss Gertrude Sanford). Mr. Stephen Sanford, popularly known as "Laddie", is one of the ranking polo players in the country and will be seen this season in many spirited games at Phipps Field. He and his attractive young wife, the former Miss Mary Duncan, are popular members of the young married set.

ANNUAL LAKE WORTH TOURNAMENT

PLAYING before one of the largest galleries ever to follow the finals of the Lake Worth Tournament, Tommy Goodwin, prominent Palm Beach golfer, retained his championship by defeating T. Sufern Tailer, former Metropolitan champion, 3 and 2, over the 36-hole route, in a match replete with thrills. Goodwin established a most substantial lead in the morning round, finishing 5 up at the end of the 18 holes, and although Tailer tried a comeback in the afternoon round and whittled the lead against him down to 2 up at one time, Goodwin was never headed.

Tailer failed by a wide margin to play the type of golf credited him, in the morning round. His drives equalled those of Goodwin for distance and accuracy, but on approach and putting he played way under his usual form.

TOMMY GOODWIN
Well known Palm Beach Golfer who retained his championship by defeating T. Suffern Tailer in the finals of the annual Lake Worth Tourney.

Goodwin played one of the best 18-hole matches of his career during the morning, finishing with 67, two strokes under par and eight strokes under his opponent, who tailled a 75. He was a whirlwind on the greens, making 25-foot putts on the third, ninth and 15th holes.

In the afternoon, Tailer was the better man on the out nine, taking the first and second holes with 20-foot putts, and appearing to be well on his way to a comeback. He placed his approaches right on the green and putted with deadly accuracy to make a 34 at the turn against a 36 tallied by Goodwin.

Coming home he whittled the margin down to 2 up on the 15th green, affording him a chance to come through on the next three holes. The 16th, however, proved his Waterloo. His drive landed to the right of the railroad tracks, almost against a palm tree. He made a beautiful out and his third shot put him right up to the pin. Goodwin was on the green in two and his putt shot put him about a foot from the hole. Tailer measured his seemingly simple putt, but stroked it a bit too hard, the ball hurdling the cup and Tommy Goodwin was the winner of the match.

Cards: Morning round—Goodwin, out, 443, 444,454—35; In, 443,552,333—32—67.

Tailer—Out, 444, 455, 444—38; In, 553, 545, 523—35—75. Afternoon round—

Goodwin, Out, 434, 545, 344—36; In, 543, 643, 4. Tailer, Out, 334, 343, 554—34; In, 343, 452, 5.

In the second flight finals, J. H. Howard, of Framingham, Mass., defeated Allan K. Wylie, of Winnetka, Ill., by the score of 4 and 2.

In the finals of the third flight, Roger Bacon, Palm Beach, defeated Ralph A. Sweet, Binghamton, N. Y., 3 and 2.

C. W. Kittleman, Greenville, Mass., defeated Arthur Brown, Fall River, Mass., 2 and 1, in the consolation event.

T. Suffern Tailer, prominent Newport amateur and Brigadier General A. C. Critchley of the Royal and Ancient course of St. Andrews, turned in a brace of 69's in the qualifying round of the annual Lake Worth tourney to tie for the medal and equal the course par. Tommy Goodwin, Monroe, N. Y., shotmaker and defending champion, trailed the leaders with a 72 for the 18-hole round.

Tailer was one over par on the out-nine registering a 36 as the result of taking fives on the first and third holes. On the second and sixth, however, he made birdies, but another five caught him on the seventh to pull down his average. Goodwin also chalked up a 36 on the out-nine, taking fives on the first and third and tucking away only one birdie on the fourth hole. Critchley was one down on the two youthful golfers for the first nine, contributing his fives on the fourth, seventh and ninth and making a birdie two on the second to make his out-round in a 37.

Goodwin got into difficulty coming home however, and tallied another 36, two above par to make his score for the day's work 72. Both Tailer and Critchley seemed to settle down on the back-nine, with Tailer making a 33 and Critchley a 32, to put them even with 69's after the final green had been played.

General Critchley withdrew from the tourney before the pairings were drawn as he left for England the middle of the week and would be unable to continue match play.

He paired with Capt. Stevens to win the annual two-ball foursome here last season.

Cards: Tailer, Out, 525, 443, 544—36; In, 443, 354, 433 — 33 — 69. Critchley, Out, 424, 544, 545—37; In, 443, 343, 533 — 32 — 69. Goodwin, Out, 535, 344, 444—36; In, 453, 434, 544—36—72.

Emil Mossbacher of White Plains, N. Y. and well known winter visitor, made a nice round to turn in a 30—35—74, to take third place in qualifying honors. William H. Hyde of Ridgeway, Pa., well known golfer and finalist in several Palm Beach tournaments, shared a three-way tie with Chris Dunphy of Great Neck, L. I., and Harvey Shaffer of West-

Denison, Lake Worth, 42-47—89; Billie Mark, Miami, 46-45—97; H. S. Moody, Jr., Brookline, 47-45—92; Pierre L. Willis, Stamford, Conn., 47-45—92; H. L. Richards, South Orange, N. J., 48-45—93; Jack Haid, Brookline, 48-46—94; P. J. Kane, New York, 50-47—97; Dr. Edward Martin, Media, Pa., 50-48—98; R. C. Maxwell, Jr., Princeton, N. J., 50-48—98; J. Hilborn, London, Eng., 49-50—99; C. B. O'Dell, Johnstown, N. Y., 48-58—106.

Favorites came through in the championship flight in the first day of match play with Tommy Goodwin defeating William B. Langford of Chicago, 6 and 5 and T. Suffern Tailer defeating Arthur Brown, Fall River shotmaker by the same score.

Manuel Ortuno of West Palm Beach who was runner-up in last year's tourney and Harvey Shaffer, prominent New York sportsman, furnished the fireworks in the day's play when they battled it out in a hard fought 19-hole match, Ortuno coming out the top man on the extra green, in spite of the fact that Shaffer shot a 69 for the 18 holes as against Ortuno's 71.

The pair played see-saw golf for the first six holes, but Ortuno homsteaded the seventh for a seven to put him one down.

He recovered on the ninth, however, when Shaffer tallied a five, and they rounded the turn all even, Ortuno with a 37 and Shaffer with a 35.

On the in-round Ortuno took the 12th with a par three, but was jinxed on the 13th with a poor approach to lose it with a six. Shaffer lost the 14th with a five, putting Ortuno 1 up but came back on the 17th with a birdie three to even the match. They halved the 18th with birdie threes, each registering a 34 for the back nine and forcing them to the extra hole. Shaffer drove into the trees on the 19th, while Ortuno's appoarch landed in a sand-trap. Shaffer had trouble getting out, and Ortuno in blasting out went way over the green. Closer putting gave Ortuno a five on the hole while Shaffer stroked a six and lost the match.

Other favorites who came through in the first flight, included Leon R. Sikes of West Palm Beach, who defeated Robert Crosbie, Newton Center, Mass., 2 and 1; Chris Dunphy of New York, who defeated C. W. Kittleman, Greenville, Miss., 2 and 1; Emil Mossbaher of New York, who finished third in the qualifying event with a 74, defeated William Dennison of Philadelphia, 3 and 2.

Tommy Tailer and William H. Hyde provided the closest match of the day with Tailer emerging on the winning side by the tally of 2 and 1.

Tommy Goodwin played too steady a game on the home round to defeat Manuel Ortuno 4 up and 3 to go.

Emil Mossbacher, who qualified near the top bracket in the medal round, went down to defeat at the hands of Kenneth MacNeil of Bridegport, Conn., by the wide margin of 7-6. Chris Dunphy eliminated Leon R. Sikes, 4-2.

Tailer and Hyde shot 4-5 golf on the way out, the only tally under those figures being registered on the fifth green when Hyde took the hole with a three. Hyde was 1 up at the turn with a 39 while Tailer marked up a 40. Hyde lost his lead on the 10th with Tailer, making a birdie three. The next two holes were even but Tailer homesteaded the unlucky 13th with a sixth to return Hyde's 1 up lead. The six on the 13th evidently cured Tailer for he took the next three holes to put him two up, halving the 17th to win the match.

Tommy Goodwin and T. Suffern Tailer cinched the finals limelight when they both emerged winners in the semi-finals match of the Lake Worth tourney.

AIRPORTS AND AIRWAYS

FOLLOWING a contribution of $3,000 from Palm Beach County and an appropriation of $500 from the Town of Palm Beach, as well as other contributions of cash from the City of West Palm Beach and private individuals, work has been resumed on the new municipal airport just west of the resort, to complete one of the proposed runways and make the airport usable for commercial and private planes.

62,000 man hours of work is being furnished by the local FERA, and under the direction of the county engineer, draglines and trucks are busily engaged hauling and spreading marl to complete the north and south runway. When this is done, it will afford a landing space 3,500 feet in length by 100 feet in width.

The completed project calls for four of these runways, making one of the most adequate landing fields in this section of the state and attracting most of the commercial airlines to make this a point of call for passengers and mail service.

Miss Grace Morrison, chairman of the Palm Beach County Airport Association, has worked unceasingly on this project for the past several years and has been the directing force in making it an actuality. An accomplished pilot herself, she can recognize the need for such a plant, both from the point of view of the aviator and the air-traveler.

Members of the executive board of the Palm Beach County Airport Association include, Miss Grace Morrison, chairman, Mr. John T. Leonard, secretary, Mr. Alfred C. Vanderbilt, Mr. Robert D. Huntington, Mr. Maurice Fatio, Mr. Grover Loening, Mr. John I. Dutel, Mr. John W. O'Bannon, Mr. J. Kenneth Williamson, Mr. Oscar G. Davies, Mr. B. D. Cole, Mr. C. W. Carroll, Hon. Alfred H. Wagg and Mr. Jack Butler, county commissioner of aviation.

The importance of Miami as a center of air travel to the tropics is being emphasized more than ever this season. Air travel from Florida's international airport continues so heavy to Havana, Nassau, Central and South America that it has been necessary for Pan American Airways to put into service extra 20-passenger Commodore and 40-passenger Clipper flying boats. The numbers of air travelers have even taxed the capacity of these world's largest aircraft. Many are taking the one-day air cruises to Mexico, Jamaica and Haiti, with others continuing to Puerto Rico, "the garden spot of the Atlantic", and on down through Caribbean islands to ravishing Rio and brilliant Buenos Aires. According to present indications, the number of winter air travelers in and out of southern Florida will be doubled in January.

THIRD NATIONAL SHOW AT ART CENTER

BROADEST in scope of the numerous art events of the Palm Beach season is the annual National Exhibit at the Palm Beach Art Center, which includes in its showing famous paintings, sculptures and etchings of National Academicians and well known artists who are winter residents of the state, as well as drawings and studies by local art students. This year the Palm Beach Art Center is giving its third annual national exhibit in the headquarters of the Civic Art Association of Palm Beach, whose aims are to foster all branches of art in the resort. An imposing building on East Main Street is used by the association as headquarters and the National Exhibition will occupy the major part of the extensive wall space.

As in the past two years, the present exhibition has been arranged by Mr. Nunzio Vayana, director of the Palm Beach Art Center and of the Ogunquit Art Center at Ogunquit, Maine, where similar exhibitions have been successfully held for the past twelve years. America's foremost artists have cooperated to bring likewise to Florida a representation of the finest American art. The executive committee of the Civic Art Association has issued invitations for a private view on Wednesday, January 30, for members of the Civic Art Association, officers and members of the Art Center and members of the press. On the following day, Thursday, January 31, the exhibition will be open to the public and will remain on free view until the end of the season. From time to time exhibits will be removed and others substituted, as the entire collection is very inclusive.

Tastes And Toilettes

STANDARDS of quality change like everything else. What was yesterday, isn't today, and certainly won't be tomorrow, says our Mary Knight of Paris. But that's what makes it fun—this business of planning new clothes every so often. Back in the old days when all you could do was skin a new cat and drape it from left to right instead of right to left, or wear it upside down for variation, and string a new set of tiger teeth on grass to wear around your neck—think how dull it all was!

Now with chiffon, lace, silk, satin, brocade, lame, taffeta, pique and the larger family of middle class materials, including cottons and percale and burlap. There aren't any poorhouse fabrics any more—even gingham and corduroy, domestic and cheesecloth have risen from their lowly ranks and can look their swankier sisters straight in the eye without flinching. Cottons are going to enjoy another season at smart resorts, and corduroy will hold its own for sports and mountain resorts. Of course the latest society climbers in the material world list cellophane and metal gauzes (cheesecloth woven of other threads!). But on the whole, the fabric family is all aristocratic or all democratic—as you may prefer to regard it—and any cloth if given the proper cut and stitch and work in the proper manner, will make you a gown to write home about in any season.

Mrs. H. Philip Ammidown looked very attractive lunching at the Bath and Tennis Club, wearing a sports frock of tie silk in small brown-and-white checks. The pockets on the blouse were finished with tabs and fabric-covered buttons. Kick pleats in front and back gave fullness to the skirt and a tie belt was a youthful feature.

* * * *

Mrs. Brooks Postley wore at the Bath and Tennis Club, an attractive frock of aqua crepe with soft scarf collar tied at the back and short puffed sleeves. A box pleat in center back of the bodice and two pleats in the center front of the skirt reaching from the shiny metal belt to the hem were a diverting feature. With it she wore white accessories.

* * * *

Mrs. R. Stuyvesant Pierrepont looked charming at the Bath and Tennis Club wearing a beach dress of imported linen in white modernistic figure on a dull blue ground. The skirt was slashed at the hem-line and belted with heavy white cord. With it she wore a swagger coat of white linen and a broad brimmed hat of white toyo, its smart crown banded in blue.

* * * *

Mrs. George A. Eddy dined at the Breakers recently wearing a chartreuse lace gown cut low in front and back and fashioned with a cape jacket. With this she wore a velvet evening wrap of a deeper shade of green.

* * * *

Miss Dorothy L. Richards chose for her tennis costume at the Bath and Tennis Club, white garbadine shorts with a top of bright plaids, fashioned with halter neck.

* * * *

Mrs. Robert A. Kennedy looked very smart Sunday at the Breakers Beach, wearing a two-piece sports frock of yellow crepe with narrow stripes of black. The small roll collar was tied with a bow of black lacquered satin and the blouse was fastened from neckline to hem with novel looking amber buttons. Pieces of the fabric set in with stripes running horizontally formed the pockets on the blouse. Her becoming hat of white wolly fabric had a high dented crown trimmed with a feather ornament. White accessories completed the details of her costume.

* * * *

Mrs. E. Howland Graham wore at the Bath and Tennis Club, a frock of eyelet batiste, diagonally patterned, in a becoming shade of aquarmarine, with wide revers edged in white organdy. Her broad brimmed hat of rough straw was in a matching shade and with it she wore white accessories.

* * * *

Miss Marian Shevlin of the Breakers, visited the beach attractively attired in a wool skirt of purl knit in commander blue, an over blouse of heavy white linen with front closing, fastened with large blue buttons and worn with a kerchief scarf of blue printed motif on a white ground. Her small fabric hat in two shades of blue was very becoming.

* * * *

Mrs. Frederick Johnson wore one of the new tailored evening gowns to the opening of Patio Marguery. The material was of a wide-whaled black corded silk with only the suggestion of a peplum and the severe long-sleeved, shirtwaist jacket buttoned down the front. The inevitable touch of white was furnished by a circular collar whose billowy folds gave it the appearance of a ruff.

* * * *

Mrs. Stewart Stanley of Washington, D. C., a guest at the Breakers, enhances her dark beauty with a white silk evening dress fashioned on classic lines and falling gracefully in a short train. A striking feature is the cowl effect yoke achieved by a drapery of silver threaded material across the front, brought to a V at the waist back.

* * * *

Miss Peggy Cook, of Southampton, a sister of Mrs. Stanley, wears a youthful model of figured black and white triple sheer. It is reminiscent of "Little Women" with its off-the-shoulder yoke accented by a wide ruff of self material which also edges the very full bouffant skirt.

* * * *

Mrs. Frank Vernon Skiff of Casa Marcheta wears a taffeta evening gown of cherry red cut in the modish robe de style with a full skirt and off-the-shoulder bodice that gives it the appearance of a figure in a Godey print.

* * * *

Mrs. Walter Gaston, who is at The Breakers, wore at dinner recently a gown of royal blue lace with the front neckline caught with diamond and sapphire clips, the top of the bodice tying in a bow at the back of the neck. The skirt fitted tightly, and was draped at one side. Miss Mary Louise King, Mrs. Gaston's niece, wore a Lanvin model in heavy champagne color crepe with a short cloth-of-gold jacket.

* * * *

At the Bath and Tennis Club, Miss Ruth M. Quigley wore a bathing suit of gay plaid on a natural background. The gathered halter had a square neck, a very new feature.

* * * *

Mrs. William A. Luke of Covington, Va., wore at The Breakers a spangled black lace gown, cut low in the back, the skirt tight fitting to the knees and then covered with ruffles, narrow in the front and widening at the back.

Tournament Tennis

ANNOUNCEMENT was made recently of the Third Annual Invitational Tennis Tournament which will probably be played on the Everglades Club courts during the week of February 11 to 17. Gordon W. Lynn, professional to the Meadow Club of Southampton, L. I. for the past eight seasons and who revived the invitation tournament at the Everglades Club, will again be in active charge, under the direction of Mr. Alfred G. Kay, chairman of the Tennis committee.

Last season one hundred and thirty-three contestants took part in the four events, which included men's singles, men's doubles, women's singles and mixed doubles. In the tennis week to come an even greater entry is looked forward to and as soon as arrangements have been made, invitations will be sent out from the club for all four events. Charles Harris, who carried off the men's singles crown last year will be on hand to defend his title and attempt to gain his second leg on the handsome Challenge Trophy.

Resort tennis enthusiasts witnessed some outstanding doubles play in the resort Sunday afternoon round robin matches in which the largest group of the season, numbering 10 teams, provided the action on the courts of the Palm Beach Tennis Club.

Charles Harris and Gordon W. Lynn nosed out Jack Olhaber and Phillip Ammidown for top honors by one game, winning 34 games and losing 11, while the latter team chalked up 33 games won and 12 lost. Taking third place were Dan Kenny and T. T. Oughterson, with 28 games won and 17 lost.

Charles Harris, former state amateur champion, and Gordon W. Lynn, well known Everglades Club professional, played in fine form throughout the match against some heavy competition but demonstrated just enough superior tennis play to lead the field in games won. Four 5-0 matches put them ahead of their nearest opponents although they were forced to bow to them 2-3 in the individual set.

Harris and Lynn lost to L. A. Wait and Paul Heston 2-3, lost to W. C. Bone and George Agutter, 2-3, and to Jack Olhaber and Phillip Ammidown, 2-3, but won over the following: John Cardegna and D. Coddington, 4-1, C. P. Ware and Arthur Rudolph, 5-0; Dan Kenny and T. T. Oughterson, 4-1; Allan Wylie and Rodney Hereen, 5-0; Rudy Noble and Parker Bryant, 5-0; Langford Harris and William C. Mrs. Robert H. Hassler and Clarence Moore teamed together, won the playoff, defeating Mrs. Robert Appleton and Mr. William Codman in a hard fought one-match 6-4, to settle the top honors of the previous day's round robins mixed doubles tennis tourney.

Both teams gave an excellent exhibition of doubles tennis before a large gallery, with the winning team finally breaking through the opponent's service to retain the lead and win the match.

The team of Miss Dorothy Richards and Alfred Vanderbilt, played a whirlwind game all through the match but were nosed out by one game to take second place with 26 games won and 16 lost.

Scores of other teams participating were Mrs. John S. Pillsbury and Parker Bryant, 25 games won and 17 lost; Mrs. Blaine Webb and Luther A. Wait, 19 won and 23 lost; Miss Muriel Richards and Mr. Charles C. Adams, Jr., 18 won and 24 lost; Mrs. Parker Bryant and W. E. B. Stokes, 17 won and 25 lost.

Nassau

NASSAU society turned out in large numbers Saturday night to attend the gala opening dinner dance of the British Colonial Hotel. The party, which was the largest and gayest held in the winter colony this season, included a number of distinguished guests. His Excellency, Governor Sir Bede Clifford and the Hon. Lady Clifford, with the aide-de-camps to the Governor, Capt. Minto-Wilson and Capt. Houston-Boswell, were guests of Mr. Chas. Moon, who represented Col. Henry L. Doherty of New York and Miami, at the opening.

The dance was held in the new grill room of the British Colonial, which has been enlarged this season and completely re-decorated, making it one of the most charming rendezvous in Nassau.

Sir Frederick and Lady Williams-Taylor of London and Montreal, who have opened their home "The Wave" for the season, were there along with Sir Herbert and Lady Holt, the Very Rev. the Dean of Nassau, His Honor the Chief Justice of the Bahamas Mr. R. C. Tute and Mrs. Tute, the Hon. Walter K. Moore and Mrs. Moore and others.

Miss Mary L. Lansing of New York was accompanied by Mr. Peter Arno, the artist; Mr. and Mrs. Seisel Canaday of Great Neck, L. I., who are wintering here, entertained for a party of eight; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cameron McDonald of Duluth and Miami Beach had six at their table.

Mr. A. E. Mills of Boston, entertained at a small party and others who were noted at the gala opening were Mrs. Henry Winkworth and her sister, Mrs. J. A. Raymond, who are here from Palm Beach, Mr. Henry Dodge Cooper of New York, Mrs. Edwin D. Nicholson of Denver, Mr. and Mrs. Del Farrar of New York, Dr. Eugene McCauliff, also of New York.

The British Colonial International Tennis Championships for the Col. Henry L. Doherty trophy, were played on the hotel courts this week. The aggregation of visiting players included Marcel Rainville, Canadian Davis Cup star, Berkley Bell, J. Gilbert Hall, Dr. Eugene McCauliff and Arthur Hendrix. The tennis players have been widely entertained by the Nassau Lawn Tennis Club, and were luncheon guests of Governor Clifford during the week.

Nassau is agog over the plan of their Royal Highnesses, the Duke and Duchess of Kent to conclude their honeymoon with a visit here on Feb. 20th and extensive preparations are already under way for the entertainment of the Royal couple.

His Excellency, Gov. Sir Bede Clifford received a telegram from the Right Hon. Earl of Athlone several days ago informing him of the proposed visit. Lord and Lady Athlone, it will be recalled were guests of Government House last winter and sojourned quite a while in Nassau.

While full details have not yet arrived from London, it is understood the Duke and Duchess of Kent will spend three or four days here. The liner on which they are traveling, the Duchess of Richmond, will also make stops at Jamaica, Barbados, Trinidad and other ports in the British West Indies. Winter residents in the Bahamas from Great Britain, Canada and America are looking forward to the proposed visit with eagerness and the sojourn of the honeymoon couple will add much gaiety to the social season.

Nassau is fortunate in having the honor of entertaining two sons of His Majesty King George V this season, for it will be recalled that the Duke of Gloucester will also visit here March 10th to 14th on his return from England to Australia. The official government schedule for the entertainment of the Duke was announced this week.

Great interest in yachting circles was aroused this week with the announcement that the Royal Nassau Sailing Club will sponsor a series of five races beginning early next month. One of these will be for the handsome King's Cup, the most prized yachting trophy in the Bahamas. Another race will be for the New York Yacht Club Trophy. Tentative plans as announced by the committee indicate that the King's Cup race will be run during the visit of the Duke of Gloucester.

Nassau society welcomed His Eminence, Patrick Cardinal O'Connell, of Boston, who arrived this week to take up his winter residence at his home here, "The Hermitage." Cardinal O'Connell was accompanied by his secretary the Rev. Jeremiah S. Minahan.

The night life is particularly gay this year with society flocking to the new Sea Bubble Club, the Bahamian Club, the Jungle and the Nassau Yacht Club. The favorite haunts of winter cruise travellers such as Dirty Dicks, Blackbeard's Cabin and the Bucket of Blood are also well patronized nightly.

Many improvements have been made at Paradise Beach whose coral sands continue to lure lovers of surf bathing from all parts of the world. The Bahamas Country Club is daily attracting a large number of golfers who are trying to equal the course record of 62 set by the young professional Jos Turnesa in the British Colonial Open.

Miami Beach

A DEFINITE trend toward the continental here this season materialized this week with the opening of the Cafe de la Paix at the Roney Plaza Cabana Sun Club. Patterned after the famous French rendezvous, where the "World and his Wife" pass in review, the cafe is proving one of the resort's favorite spots. Among those entertaining there during the week were Max Baer, world champion heavyweight boxer, who gave a luncheon for Mary Kirk Brown, New York, Mrs. Damon Runyon, wife of the writer, Mrs. Roof Gilson, the former Georgia Coleman, Joseph E. Widener, of Palm Beach, and Ann Pennington, Broadway star.

Vivian Yeiser Laramore, the poet, and Bonnie Busch, author of many well known novels, were guests of honor at the Celebrity Breakfast given at the Miami Biltmore recently. The occasion featured reviews of the authors' works and musical selections and exhibitions of paintings by members of the League of American Penwomen.

Caryl Oakes, violinist, famous both here and in Europe, will head the list of artists. Among patrons for the event will be Mrs. Clayton Sedgwick Cooper, Mrs. Ralph Polk, Mrs. John Carlisle, and Mrs. Price Cassady.

BENEATH THE STARS

IT IS AMAZING to go from restaurant to restaurant night after night and see the unusual numbers of patrons in each. Amazing because in the first place, the season is still early, or was when this was written And in the second place because there are so so many more places to go than last year. The answer does not lie entirely in the fact that this season is better than last, which of course it is—infinitely so. The truth is that diversity of places, diversity of menu, diversity of entertainment, bring out more people. People who, were there but two or three places to go, would confine a great deal of their entertaining to their homes.

Semi-public entertainment is the vogue this season to an extent hitherto unknown—since before Prohibition days at any rate.

So hither, thither and yon they go, night after night. Luncheon here, cocktails there, dinner and supper some where else. Each of the six restaurants is so different in basic respects—atmosphere, entertainment, food—that there is no monotony. Each is similar insofar as no matter what is offered, it is the best to be had anywhere in the world.

In making the rounds one runs across the same people in two or three places, sometimes more, on the same evening. That they are enjoying themselves is self evident. The fact that they are coming out night after night and making the rounds—pub-crawling as the British call it, but pub-crawling in its most elegant form—is in itself the sincerest form of commendation which can be offered les entrepreneurs.

JOE CAPPO AND FRANCES KNIGHT of Floor Show fame headed a large cast of entertainers at the Club Savoy recently.

Stop for a moment to think of the orchestras alone which may be heard any night. The country's finest. Ernie Holst Music at the Colony Club. Mort Dennis' Orchestra at The Patio. Vallee Erney's at Patio Marguery. Mario di Polo's at Jardin Bijou. The Westchester-Biltmore Country Club Orchestra at Club Savoy. Ross Allen's at El Studio.

Where else in the world today could there be found within so small an area such a shining galaxy of orchestral ensembles?

The outstanding event of the past week was the opening of the Colony Club on Wednesday night. For its seventh successive season the internationally-known rendezvous threw open its portals, and welcomed a gathering of over four hundred guests, representing the elite of Palm Beach from both the hotels and the cottages.

At noon of the same day the Cafe de la Paix, an integral part of the Colony Club's establishment, was opened for the first time this year. In the late afternoon it presented a merry scene, most of the guests gathered to wish Mr. Arthur C. Hand, founder, president and guiding star of the club, a successful season.

As the shades of night drew on the picture changed. Earlier guests left to dress and return, and by eight o'clock the cafe was filled with hosts and hostesses meeting their guests for the evening. Towards nine o'clock the crowds thinned out as dinner tables filled. But by eleven the restless throng again flooded cafe-wards, with all the little tables taken, and the overflow seeking space in the water-gardens.

In the meantime the dinner dance, marking the Colony Club's opening, was drawing to a successful close, and passing into the supper dance. The entertainment had been typical of what the Colony Club always offers—the utmost. The thrill which went through the crowd as Ernie Holst led his incomparable orchestra into the initial strains of the first dance was almost physically perceptible. The moment had its romance for all.

It was a gay night indeed. A memorable one. If you were there, you'll know. If you weren't, then nothing which could be said here could possibly fill the void.

On the following Saturday night The Patio held its gala opening, also taking the form of a dinner dance, with a capacity throng in attendance, and a superlative program of entertainment offered by the Mort Dennis Orchestra.

But the surprise of the evening was the presentation of Miss Frances Maddux. Mr. Sam Salvin, managing director, held this ace card up his sleeve until the last moment. But as soon as he released the news reservations came in so fast that for awhile it looked as though two Patios would not be large enough to accommodate the crowds. Miss Maddux will appear nightly at The Patio, singing her songs intimes, for an extended engagement.

A novel feature was introduced at El Studio on Thursday afternoon, when Anne French held the first of a series of weekly discussions on psychoanalysis. They will be repeated every Thursday afternoon throughout the season.

The first discussion brought out a large and interested gathering, many of them Miss French's former patrons, but some come out of idly curiosity—and remaining to marvel.

Patio Marguery formally opened Bar Marguery on Saturday, with a separate entrance on Main Street, leading directly to the bar and the cocktail room. Music at the cocktail hour was also an innovation of last week. The Marguery Wine Shop, located next door to Bar Marguery, carrying a superior line of vintages, was opened yesterday. All are under the management of Peter Mongini of the Muenchinger-King Hotel, Newport.

The Basque Bar at Jardin Bijou holds ranking place at cocktail time. The little tables in the forecourt are crowded every afternoon in this peaceful spot, than which there is no more delightful for the preprandial aperitif.

* * * *

Club Savoy has made many changes in its floor show, shown three times nightly, until today it is an almost entirely different presentation. Principals in the various numbers display such versatility that rarely is the same number shown twice in one evening. And the Westchester-Biltmore Country Club Orchestra continues to purvey its super-delectable music.

* * * *

Palm Beach, accustomed to brilliant social functions, has not for many years witnessed so fashionable a turn-out as that which attended the Colony Club's opening. Not a handful of the resort's fashionables missed the event.

And Now I'll Tell One

THE fishing grounds off Palm Beach have proved very fruitful the past week with resort anglers catching them in large numbers. Brisk winds and rippled waters brought the fish in and plenty of anglers were there to land them. Some of the heftiest sailfish and amberjack on record were brought in by anglers from the resort who reported some thrilling experiences while fishing in the Gulf Stream.

Skippers at the Poinciana boat basin reported the waters just off the shore of Palm Beach were fairly alive with all types of game fish, many of them being so large they snapped the lines before the angler could reel in the slack.

Mr. Reddington and son of New York who are here aboard the cruiser-yacht, Alamo, had a thrilling day of it. Mr. Reddington landed a huge sailfish weighing 81 pounds after a terrific fight. He had no sooner got this into the boat than he hooked a large amberjack, of such size that it snapped the line with its powerful lunges. They also hooked three other large sailfish but lost them. They were out with Capt. Walter Githens aboard the "Miss Sally", from Poinciana boat basin.

Mr. John P. Cook, who is a guest at the Breakers, landed an 87-pound amberjack in a battle that lasted fully three-quarters of an hour and furnished thrills for both he and Mrs. Stuart Stanley, who was aboard, Mr. Cook who landed a record marlin about a week ago was out for big fish and used a 15-thread line and 6-ounce tip. He entered the amberjack in the fishing contest for weight. They were out with Capt. Harry Hunt aboard the "Imp," from Poinciana basin.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young and Miss Eleanor Young had an interesting day's fishing. Mr. Young caught a large sailfish measuring 7 feet, 4 inches, while another member of the party landed a large dolphin. A number of "kings" were also landed by the party. They were out with Capt. Rudy Steinhauser aboard the "Blackjack", from Poinciana basin.

The Sailfish Club of Florida fishing contest is well under way with Mr. Edward V. Quinn landing in the sailfish class by just one-half inch. His recent entry measured 43 adn one-half inches, against a 43-inch entry made prior to that by Mr. C. D. Keeler. Mr. Ward Ames leads the sailfish entry for weight with an 80-pound "sail," runner-up being W. W. Smith with a 56-pounder.

Mr. Charles Francis Coe, prominent writer and president of the club heads the kingfish class with one weighing 17 pounds. Other contest entries are as follows: Marlin, E. V. Quinn, 59 one-half pounds; black bass, Mr. W. D. Arrison, 10 pounds; dolphin, Mr. J. B. Law, 31 pounds; amberjack, Mr. John Barry Ryan, Jr., 59 one-half pounds; bonita, Mr. W. J. H. Boyd, 12 pounds; barracuda, Mr. W. D. Arrison, 20 one-half pounds; muttonfish, T. B. Martin, 9 pounds, 14 ounces; bluefish, Mr. Gilbert Drake, 8 pounds, two ounces; pompano, Mrs. Thomas R. Cowell, five pounds, 12 ounces.

A record pompano for these waters, weighing 5¾ pounds was landed by Mrs. Thomas R. Cowell of New York and Palm Beach, while fishing from Palm Beach Pier.

Mrs. Cowell and her son, Richard, were fishing from the pier, when Mrs. Cowell hooked and landed the prize fish.

AN EXTRAORDINARY EXHIBIT OF

Imperial Russian Treasures

Comprising the famous Hammer Collection coming directly to Palm Beach from the Marshall Field & Co. Exhibit in Chicago where it was popularly acclaimed as the outstanding event of the recent Century of Progress Exposition.

This is the first important collection of treasures rescued from the Revolution in Russia! Objects it contains were actually used in the Winter Palace at St. Petersburg, Tsarskoye Selo and other Royal Palaces—some of them date back to the reign of Catherine the Great. Two daring young Americans, Dr. Armand Hammer and his brother, Victor Hammer, collected them over a period of nine years in Russia.

The first exhibit held in the Everglades Club last year was one of the most successful events ever held in Palm Beach. If you saw the first exhibit you will be equally interested in seeing the many and new fascinating objects now being shown for the first time.

Among the articles on exhibit are several extraordinary pieces — creations of Faberge, who was court jeweler to the late Czar, Nicholai II.

Will Be Held in the Everglades Club Ballroom

Beginning February 2nd

ANY NIGHT AT THE PLAZA

Brilliant gatherings . . . dinner and supper parties . . . music . . . dancing . . . entertainment . . . in the Persian Room with its colorful, cleverly lighted murals, reminiscent of an old Persian miniature. Year after year the Plaza maintains its position as New York's leading hotel, patronized by the socially elect. That indefinable something in Plaza service has set a standard both here and abroad. Plan to make the Plaza your home when you come to New York. Single rooms from $5. Double rooms from $7. Suites from $10.

One Reason for Your Good Health!

An Adequate Supply of Pure Water

As an accommodation to patrons arriving in town during the hours that our office is closed (Saturday after 12 noon, Sundays, Holidays and between the hours of 5 P. M. and 8 A. M.) the order will receive prompt attention if phoned to our Pumping Station. Telephone number 4732.

Purity of water is essential to community health and the maintenance of a constant adequate supply of pure water is a task of no mean proportion. Water furnished consumers through the mains of the West Palm Beach Water Company is as pure as it is humanely possible to make it. There is a constant, never-ending effort to keep it so. How successful this utility has been in the task is evidenced in the reports of the city health officer, the Florida State Board of Health and the United States Public Health Service. Each of these three health-guarding agencies check samples of West Palm Beach Water Company water at regular intervals.

DELIGHTFUL DRESSING-ROOMS

There are many things about Waldorf suites women like. For example, the dressing-rooms . . . an unexpected luxury seldom found in hotels. Charmingly furnished boudoirs, with dressing-table, chaise longue. These are indicative of the many small comforts which are as much a part of The Waldorf as its gay social life. Room rates are from $5 the day.

GARNIER
LIQUEURS

LEMON HART
JAMAICA RUM

● Enjoy your favorite liqueurs—glorified! Garnier (founded 1859) makes them all—Abricotine (apricot liqueur), Creme de Menthe, Creme de Cacao—24 others! Distilled and bottled at Enghien, France.

● "Hart's Delight" cocktail: 2 parts Lemon Hart Jamaica Rum, 1 part Italian vermouth, dash Angostura, sugar to taste. Lemon Hart Demerara is thicker, more pungent. Both are superbly mellow. Bottled in London.

PERNOD S.A.
LIQUEUR VERITAS

J & W NICHOLSON
IMPORTED GIN

● Has the subtle flavor of absinthe which adds zest to cocktails! For a novel drink, try Pernod Drip. (Send for free recipe folder.) Liqueur Veritas is bottled in Spain.

● Smooth, delicate, distinctively different in cocktails because it's true English gin. Nicholson Sloe Gin is so good that in England it is used exclusively as a liqueur.

SECRETS of a Super-Cellarette

DISTINCTION in drinks doesn't require large expenditure or long experience. It calls for care—care, first of all, in selecting the ingredients.

Nine times out of ten, drinks are better if the ingredients come from abroad. But even among importations, care in selection is vital. For 3 generations Julius Wile Sons & Co., Inc., has been choosing, slowly and with great discrimination, the finest wines, spirits and liqueurs from abroad. Shown here are a few rarities imported by Wile—unusual ingredients that add true distinction to your drinks. The chief secret of the super-cellarette is that it contains Wile importations!
